DETERMINED NOT TO ABANDON THE FORTRESS OF ADRIANOPLE

Turkey Threatens to Recall the Peace Delegates From London--Situation Practically Unchanged

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The threats of Turkey to recall her peace delegates from London to Constantinople and the menace of a Rumanian invasion of Bulgaria tend to give the impression that the Balkan situation has become more grave within the last 24 hours. In reality, however, it is practically unchanged.

Much is expected to result from this afternoon's meeting at the foreign office of the ambassadors of the European powers, who are expected to reach a decision concerning the collective attitude of Europe.

It is not expected that the peace conference will resume before next week and in support of this view it is announced that Premier Venizelos of Greece intends to leave on Saturday for Oxford, where he will visit the colleges of the university and spend the night. Today he lunched with the Right Hon. Charles Kibbourn and in the course of conversation emphasized the Hellenic claims over the islands of the Aegean sea, expressing the hope that the country which under Gladstone gave to Greece the Ionian Islands will not refuse its assistance now that Gladstone's disciples are in power.

Rehad Pasha, the leader of the Turkish peace delegation, today reiterated the determination of the Turks not to abandon the fortress of Adrianople or the islands in the Aegean sea. He said: What kind of a conference is this where all the concessions emanate from one side? Had this been known before hand there would have been no need to go to the trouble of bringing together a peace conference in London.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 10.—The European ambassadors in the Ottoman capital have succeeded in drawing up a colorless note which will probably be presented on Monday next to the Turkish government. The advice is given to Turkey in this document to yield on the question of Adrianople but no suggestion is made of pressure being brought to bear by the powers to insure the acceptance of this advice.

Y. M. C. A. Committee of 300 Holds Banquet and Jubilation

Over the Completed Building Erected Through Their Efforts

FLASHLIGHT PICTURE OF THE ASSEMBLY IN THE BANQUET HALL WITH PRESIDENT BOWEN AND FRANK DUNBAR IN FOREGROUND

A banquet and entertainment was held in the hall of the new Young Men's Christian Association building last night for the committee of energetic men whose efforts in soliciting contributions and otherwise assisting in raising the fund which finally brought about the realization of the magnificent structure. In the original committee there were about 300, and of this number more than one-half were present at last evening's event. It was a time of rejoicing over the good results of the calling together of the great body more than three years ago when the great clock was hung to indicate the growth of the fund during the energetic campaign, which netted the Y. M. C. A. more than $170,000 for the undertaking.

The Banquet

The sumptuous banquet which opened the evening's festivities was served by the willing members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association and was most enjoyable in every respect. During the serving of the various courses an orchestra composed of young men of the organization rendered pleasing selections.

Mr. Frank A. Bowen, president of the trustees of the association, introduced Mr. Frank B. Dunbar as toastmaster of the evening, and the latter delivered the opening address. He spoke of the long delay in the realization of the plans of the members and amused the gathering with humorous reminiscences in connection with the building.

Mr. Dunbar's Address

Mr. Dunbar spoke in general terms of the branches of the organization in other cities that are also building new quarters and are to move in soon, and he said the work in Lowell had aroused considerable interest in other cities, and this was in great measure due to the elaborateness of the new local home of the Young Men's Christian Association. Y. M. C. A. buildings of the past, he went on to say, have been of a different plan of construction, be-

CONGRESSIONAL INVESTIGATION

Of New Haven-Grand Trunk Deal Not to be Recommended by House Rules Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Congressional investigation of the New Haven-Grand Trunk traffic deal in New England will not be recommended by the house rules committee, which has held several hearings upon the subject. It became known today that the federal government's prosecution of railroad officials concerned was one of the reasons for the committee's determination.

Rep. O'Shaughnessy's resolution to authorize an inquiry by a special house committee has been before the house rules committee since before the Christmas holidays, when hearings were held on a request for a special rule for its immediate consideration. From time to time it has been reported that the committee would meet to decide on a report but today it became known that nothing has been or will be done with the resolution.

Several members of the rules committee oppose under any circumstance

End of Archibald Trial in Sight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The end of the Archibald trial was in sight today when the senate reconvened as a court of impeachment. Five hours of argument was almost equally divided between the attorneys defending Judge Robert W. Archibald and the house managers conducting the prosecution. It was expected that the final two and a half hours of the day's session would be devoted to the closing argument of the prosecution to be made by Rep. Clayton of Alabama.

A. S. Worthington resumed today, analyzing the various charges against Judge Archibald to show that such acts as the house managers characterized as misbehavior were not of a kind to make him subject to impeachment. Judge Archibald has occupied a seat with his counsel throughout the argument. His wife has heard the trial throughout from the public gallery.

New Uniforms For Cubs

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Manager Johnnie Evers of the Chicago National League club announced last night that he had decided on the uniforms to be worn by his players during the coming season. He said the pencil stripes will not be seen on the home uniforms this season as last year and that they will be pure white. The road "jacks," he said, would be dark blue. On the breasts of the home uniforms the word "Cubs" will appear in blue letters and the same word in white letters will appear in the traveling suits. Plain blue military sweaters will go with both uniforms.

KEY WORKER IS HELD

Several Charges Proved Against Him

LARCENY FROM HOUSES WHEN OWNERS WERE OUT

Some Articles Disposed of in Pawn-Shops—Other Cases Disposed of This Morning

Herbert J. Merrill, a young man about 28 years of age, was arraigned before Judge Enright in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with three counts of breaking and entering and larceny. Merrill, according to his own confession, had entered several tenements in Charles street and vicinity and stole clothing and various other articles. He gained entrance to a house with the aid of a key and always operated during the daytime when the occupants of the tenements were at work.

The first count in the complaint charged him with the larceny of $12 in money, to which he entered a plea of not guilty, but on the other two counts, alleging larceny of a suit of clothes and a razor, he entered pleas of guilty. At the conclusion of the hearing of the testimony the court found the defendant guilty on two counts and sentenced him to the Massachusetts reformatory.

After stealing the clothes and razor he went to a pawnshop in Central street and disposed of the articles for $125. Ident. Maher testified that he arrested Merrill in a house in Central street yesterday noon and the young man admitted making two of the breaks, and a search of his clothing brought to light a key which Merrill said he used in entering the houses.

After sentence to the reformatory was imposed Merrill entered an appeal and was held under bonds for the superior court.

Held For the Superior Court

The case of Mathias Silva, charged with embezzlement, which has been pending in the court for several weeks, was called for trial today, but the defendant waived examination, whereupon the court found probable cause of guilt and held the man under $1000 bonds for his appearance before the superior court. Silva is charged with the embezzlement of $500 from the local branch of the Portuguese Fraternity of the United States of America, and embezzlement of $152.79 from the supreme lodge of the same order. Lawyer Curtin appeared for the government, and the defendant was represented by Lawyer O'Connor.

Case Continued on Request

Jas. P. McDonald was charged with drunkenness and assault and battery on his wife, Nellie A. McDonald, and Mary E. Mahoney. He entered pleas of not guilty to each complaint, and at his request the court granted a continuance until next Friday, holding Mc-

Drunk Offenders

Terrence Gray, who was charged with being drunk, entered a plea of not guilty. Capt. Brogan testified he arrested the defendant at 11:10 o'clock yesterday morning and that the man was in a drunken condition. Court Officer Dwyer said the defendant was so drunk that he had to be carried into the police station. Gray admitted that he had been drinking, but said if the court would give him a chance he would take the next train back to New York, where he had business to attend to. Judge Enright said: "You were down in Foxboro and ran away." Gray was then sentenced to three months in jail.

James J. Kennedy, who was on parole from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. Albert Ormond was asked to contribute $6, after being found guilty of being drunk. Four simple drinks were released by the probation officer.

Juvenile Session

In the juvenile session, James E. Sheehan, found guilty of breaking and entering and larceny, was sentenced to the industrial school at Shirley.

Collins, of Somerville, who is charged with cutting the throat of his brother-in-law on Christmas day, and those against five Italians, who were charged with killing a fellow countryman on the night of Nov. 17 in Watertown, during the course of labor disturbances at the Hood rubber mills. These five Italians were also indicted for assault with intent to murder another foreigner on the same night.

SHADE OF HEGA AND BOILING HERBS

Used to Induce Widow of Rich Potter
King to Give Up Her Fortune—Suit
Now For Recovery

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Favorable reports of a midnight reading of the whims of fate in a boiling pot of herbs brought from a witches' cavern on an island in the West Indies, induced Mrs. Isabelle V. Adams, widow of Al Adams, "killing king," to sign a note for $30,000 in favor of Mrs. Marguerite Gilbert, a professional medium, according to testimony in a trial of unusual interest in supreme court yesterday. Mrs. Gilbert, recognized in her own mystic world as "Mme. De Brant," is plaintiff against Mrs. Adams in a suit to recover the amount of the note.

"Hegs" with insistent demands for more money, was the shade who, according to Mrs. Adams' story of representations made to her, translated what the boiling pot had to divulge. After giving Mrs. Gilbert sums of $1000, $200 and $500, so that "Hegs" could visit the island in search of fresh herbs and blossoms, Mrs. Adams said she handed the plaintiff a $500 note in return for promised "protection" for herself and family during a trip to Mexico. When informed that "Hegs" considered this amount too small, Mrs. Adams said she wrote the $30,000 note, telling Mrs. Gilbert to keep it until the defendant had made a bequest for the same amount in her will. When this provision was made in the will, Mrs. Gilbert refused to return the note, Mrs. Adams testified.

CHELMSFORD CENTRE

The Village Improvement association held a musical social Wednesday evening, consisting of victrola selections and a dance, a large number being present. It was held at liberty hall, South Chelmsford, at 8 o'clock. Ice cream was sold and a large part of the attendance hailed from the Centre and started from the postoffice at 7.30 o'clock in Mr. Fred Hazen's large sleigh. The officers of the Village Improvement society are: President, Edgar Parkhurst; vice president, Heady Park; secretary, Wilbur Lapham, and treasurer, Mrs. Heady Park. This organization has not only been a great benefit to the town, but has created a very social spirit which is much advocated and in some instances needed.

Mr. Fred Park, who recently purchased a large well driller and has been very busy with it, considering the number of persons in that business in this vicinity, is to purchase another drill.

The sidewalk on the Lowell road between Mr. Leroy Parkhurst's and Dr. Howard's residence is being filled in with gravel. This sidewalk in damp weather has been a cause of much complaint on account of its muddy condition.

Mr. Emile Paignon is in New York purchasing 35 head of cattle. The floor of Falls & Burkinshaw's branch drug store is being improved. The marriage of Miss Helene Chino-poulos to Mr. Atanasios Koukoulis, both of Chelmsford, took place Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Charles Ellis performed the marriage ceremony at his home on Westford street. The witnesses were Mrs. Charles Ellis and Mr. Michael Lallas of the East village.

Exports of Agricultural Implements
More than 40 million dollars' worth of agricultural implements were exported from the United States to foreign countries in the calendar year just ended. Ten years ago the value of the exportation of this class of manufactures was 15 million dollars; 20 years ago it was but 4 million dollars. Thus the value of this particular class of manufactures exported in 1912 was nearly two and a half times as much as a decade ago and ten times as much as two decades ago.

All the world, apparently, buys American agricultural implements. Mowers and reapers exported last year went to more than 75 countries and colonies, including every grand division of the world, while other classes of agricultural implements were widely distributed in the year's export trade.

Europe alone took 21 million dollars' worth of the 40 million dollars' worth of farming implements exported in 1912; North America, 8 million; and South America, 5 million dollars' worth. Russia is the largest single buyer of our agricultural implements, the value exported thereto in the year just ended having been approximately 16 million dollars, against 7 million to Argentina, 7 million to Canada, and about 3 million dollars each to France and Germany. Thus the leading buyers of our agricultural implements are, in the order of magnitude, Russia, Argentina, and Canada, with France and Germany about equal in the value of their purchases, though in each case materially less than three countries already named—Russia, Argentina, and Canada.

American mowers and reapers seem to be especially in demand in Russia, which took in the fiscal year 1912 a million dollars' worth out of a total of 17 million dollars' worth of mowers and reapers exported. In the group, plows and cultivators, Canada and Argentina are the largest purchasers, Canada and Argentina each taking about 1 1/2 million dollars' worth out of a total exportation of 7 million dollars.

The recent classification of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce divides the group of agricultural implements exported into mowers and reapers, plows and cultivators, planters and seeders, threshers, and rakes and tedders. Of the 40 million dollars' worth of agricultural implements exported during the calendar year, 21 million dollars' worth was mowers and reapers; 7 million plows and cultivators; 5 million, threshers; 1 1/2 million planters and seeders; and a half million dollars' worth rakes.

CRIES OF "IT'S A LIE"

By Women at the Wellesley Church

WHEN MOVEMENT WAS STARTED TO ELECT NEW PASTOR

Rev. George Natress Was Ousted By
Vote of St. Andrew's Episcopal
Church

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—The stormiest meeting in the already troubled history of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Wellesley, came last night when an attack made upon the Rev. George Natress by R. Kinsman Sawyer, the senior warden, was abruptly halted by cries of "It's a lie" from women present.

The meeting opened with an attempt by those opposed to the Rev. Natress, who has been asked to resign, but refused to do so under fire, to elect a successor to him. In the midst of cries of protest the vote was taken. It resulted in an overwhelming majority for those who desire a new pastor.

When this was announced, the minister arose from his seat. "I have not yet resigned," he said. "You may believe I have, but this is not the case. As a matter of fact, I have sent a letter to Bishop Lawrence, saying that I will probably resign, but not before Oct. 1, 1913."

Senior Warden Sawyer then took the floor. "Mr. Natress has refused to work with the vestry," he declared. "He has worked as he pleased."

"It's a lie," shrieked several women in the audience.

Sixteen Are Loyal
Miss Agnes Edwards Rothery, representing the sixteen members of the church who remain loyal to the minister, was on her feet in a moment. "The vestry of the church! It was run like a club room," she declared. "The proper spirit has not been shown. Dr. Natress. He has tried to make everything as pleasant as possible for the members of the congregation."

"I hope if this attempt to dispossess him by any chance proves successful he will remain in Wellesley as a resident of the town. He is an example by following which many residents of this town might profit."

This was followed by a motion to adjourn the meeting for three months and leave certain offices of the church vacant. This was defeated.

Senior Warden Sawyer then read a statement which stated that Bishop Lawrence favored the views of the vestrymen in an election.

New Officers Elected

The minister has received a salary of $1500 a year for preaching two sermons a week, one speaker declared. The meeting wound up with the re-election of the vestrymen opposed to the retention of Dr. Natress. He and his loyal sixteen still hold the fort, however, as far as his continued service as minister is concerned.

They have been held in England until their purchase recently by Mr. Tuck. Only the income of the securities is available to the society, to be used for its general purposes.

ROLLING AND BOWLING

The Teams Made Some
Goaling Last NightHOW THE PINS WERE SENT FLYINGAs the Experts Were Trying to Roll Up the Scores—Was a Source of De-

The bowlers turned out in large numbers last night and practically every alley in the city was kept busy from early in the evening until closing time. Many of the league contests were close and exciting and some good scores were made.

The Ajax team of the Helms-Cartridge league defeated the U. S. C. Machine quintet, winning all four points. Crigg of the losing team was high man.

Two games were played in the Barack league. The one between the First Primitive Methodist and Trinitarian Congregational resulted in an even break, each team winning two points. The Trinitarian-Congregational team, however, had the pinfall by a margin of eight pins. In the other game the Calvary Baptist and St. Paul's M. E. team split even.

Excelsior lodge defeated Integrity lodge by a margin of 43 pins and incidentally won three of the four points. The Finishers defeated the Shavers in the Tannery league series and the Finish Room team of the Bigelow Carpet league swamped the Weavers. The game between the Magnetos and Cretics proved to be a walkover for the Magnetos.

The Y. M. C. I. bowling team won four points from the Haverhill aggregation in a game in the Merrimack Valley Bowling league series on Wednesday night. The scores:

P. PAUL MARCEL
P. Paul Marcel and Company will be seen at the Opera House tonight in "Vingt Jours a L'Omaha." It is bright and witty, full of action and complications that arise from the good natured effort of a man to oblige his friend by taking the latter's place to serve a twenty days sentence in jail. This is but an idea or what the play is built upon. It would be difficult to do justice on paper to the complications and trouble into which this self imposed imprisonment leads. It is a series of laughs, good long and hearty,

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, therefore, out of the way, and, therefore, stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in vitamins and other building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which only comes from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on "gluten" products I would suggest that you should try a small amount of food which you may like in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a half teaspoonful of Magnesium Compound in a little hot water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Magnesium Compound is doubtless the best food corrective and aid known. It is not a medicine, and has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which produces the delicate stomach trouble, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an ill-natured and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the cause of all the trouble. Get a little Magnesium Compound from your druggist, eat what you want at next meal, take some of the Magnesium Compound as directed above, and see if I'm not right.

Former Congressman Head

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Jan. 10.—Warren

E. Brough, former democratic congressman from California, died here yesterday. English was elected to Congress in 1882 and served one term.

REV. J. N. JACQUES
President and Treasurer

meeting consisted of a dinner and remarks in the interest of the corporation which was organized for the welfare of the parish.

Present at the meeting were: Rev. J. N. Jacques, president and treasurer; Rev. E. A. Fortier, clerk; Messrs. Nicholas Gagnon and Marcel Lussier, all of this city; Rev. Alphonsus Calabrese of Salem; Rev. Hector Cote of Shirley; Rev. J. S. Parent of Lynn; Rev. Fr. Guenier of Waltham; Rev. Fr. Labrosse of Amesbury and the legal adviser John J. Hogan of this city.

At the close of the report the president, Rev. J. N. Jacques, called to order and in brief remarks announced that the entire debt on the convent in Belmont street had been wiped out and to emphasize his words he struck a match and burned the last mortgage to the amount of $10,000. This was received with great applause by the members of the corporation.

In the course of his remarks Rev. Fr. Jacques reviewed the work of the corporation since its inception, Aug. 16, 1906, and also announced that the only debt existing in the parish was on the parochial school to the amount of $23,500. He said it will be paid next Feb. 7 that the parish was organized and he expressed his joy over the results obtained in those nine years. The reverend gentleman said the parish owned property to the amount of about $58,500, and the debt amounting only to $23,500. A settlement is expected to reduce it another $10,000.

The property and the cost owned by the parish is as follows:

School	$25,000
Convent	22,000
Land	1,500
Total	$48,500
Debt	23,500
Contents	1,000
Total	$53,000

The pastor explained the vigorous movement established in the parish in order to raise funds for the construction of a new church, and said the results thus far were very gratifying. He also gave the plans of the proposed church, the entire having been purchased exclusively in The Sun, and finished by saying he hoped the new edifice would soon be the pride of the parishioners of St. Louis' church.

There were other remarks by several members of the corporation, and the election of officers was held with the same result as last year, the same officers being re-elected.

The United States Repair Ship Panther Missing After Sailing for Cuba---Naval Authorities Worried

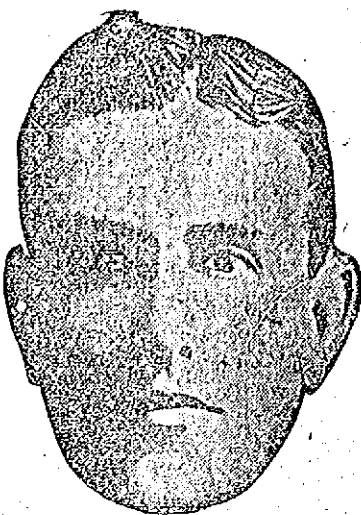

THE REPAIR SHIP PANTHER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The naval authorities are worried about the disappearance of the repair ship Panther, which sailed Jan. 2 from New York for Guantanamo, Cuba. The boat is well as other naval and merchant vessels along the coast and when efforts to pick her up after the recent storm failed the fear that she had suffered a serious mishap grew strong.

A TEN DOLLAR SUIT DURING THE MONTH OF JANUARY LOOKS AS BIG AS A MOUNTAIN TO ME

Signed, MITCHELL

That's the way I talk to my help nowadays, all the way from my Boston to my Buffalo stores.

In a feeble way it conveys my idea of the magnitude of every Suit order between now and February the first, but it doesn't do half justice to the distance I will go the limit with a customer to sell him a suit of clothes, an overcoat or a pair of trousers.

Show Me a Man Friday or Saturday

who has a slight notion that he will buy clothing, and I will make him think that his is the last money the government is going to issue.

I want Business, plenty of Business; I have a large force to keep going, and if values can get business I'll lick the January dullness.

Liggett's Hall & Lyon Stores

An International Word of Thanks

Viewing the hundreds of letters and resolutions each mail brings us—commending Liggett's Hall & Lyon stores for throwing out all liquors, we feel that we have made a flying start for the year 1913.

These messages of approval come from almost every city in the United States and Canada and from every class of citizen. From New England in particular we have been inundated with resolutions from religious and civic bodies.

Letters from physicians—who more than anyone else are interested in keeping the drug business up to high ethical standards, have been numerous and gratifying.

Widespread approval has been given in the daily press, and in religious papers and publications dealing with the liquor trade as well as the drug trade.

We may not be able to answer all of these letters in person but we want to answer every one of them in the most practical way we know how—

By giving safer, and better drug store service than was ever known before.

By making each Liggett store the best store of its kind in its own particular community and through superior service and fair prices continuing to be AMERICA'S GREATEST DRUG STORES.

PLAN TO ABOLISH NO. STATION

Tunnel to South Station at Cost of $50,000,000 Being Considered by Railroad Men

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Plans for the abolition of the North station and the construction of a tunnel beneath the city which will directly connect the Boston & Maine railroad with the New Haven system have been prepared by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company.

New Haven officials have already conferred with the Boston Transit commission regarding the construction of the summer street subway to Dorchester with underground exits and entrances connecting beneath Dewey square with the proposed railroad tunnel.

The estimated cost of the four-track tunnel is about $50,000,000. The engineers believe it could be built in three years. It would necessitate the immediate electrification of the New Haven and Boston & Maine railroads.

Governor Foss has assured President Charles S. Mellen of his approval and support of the tunnel scheme, provided the New Haven road takes a 50-year lease of the Boston & Maine.

It was reported last night by a high official of the New Haven railroad that a 25-year lease would be satisfactory to President Mellen, and that he felt confident of financing the tremendous project if he were assured of at least 25 years of full control of the Boston & Maine.

Though the New Haven railroad engineers have already worked out the details of the stupendous scheme, no bill or petition has been prepared for the legislature. It is planned to utilize the public demand for electrification and better service to force through the legislation needed to permit the construction of the tunnel.

Governor May Urge Act
In his message to the general court Governor Foss referred to the urgent need of "physical connection" of the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroads. It is expected that he will ask for the passage of an act which will authorize President Mellen to carry out his plans.

The magnitude of the tunnel scheme and its far reaching effects cannot be appreciated by one not accustomed to deal with large figures and fully comversant with the railroad situation in New England.

It means that Boston would become a principal way station on a thorough transportation line from eastern Canada to the west and south.

Cross-City Highway

One feature proposed by the New Haven officials makes them confident of the support of the chamber of commerce. This is a great cross-city thoroughfare, from the South to the present North station, following the course of the four-track tunnel.

Though the tunnel is planned to make a direct connection of the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroad tracks, it is to extend a mile or more beyond in either direction.

Grade From Back Bay
One branch would begin at the eastern end of the Back Bay station. Here the Providence division trains would enter on a slight grade, descending gradually until near the South station they would run about 50 feet underground.

The Midland and Plymouth division trains would start down grade at about the intersection of Dorchester avenue and West Sixth street in South Boston, entering on the same level as the Providence division at the South station.

Station Far Underground

The present underground station, planned for suburban traffic and never used, it is proposed to drop down still lower, and make the regular Boston station of all through trains.

From summer street extension it is proposed to extend Dorchester avenue along the water front to Northern avenue. The tunnel line follows this extension beneath Congress street and Northern avenue, across Purchase street, east of Fort Hill square, along High street, under Broad and India streets, Custom House square east of the custom house, along Commercial street, under Fallon, along Cross street to Stillman and Washington streets, east of Haymarket square, and thence along Haverhill street to a point between the old Fitchburg station and the North station.

Cross-City Thoroughfare

Above this course would be the cross-city thoroughfare for traffic, actually the roof of the tunnel, in which powerful electric locomotives would be whisking passenger and freight trains beneath the city of Boston.

At the site of the present North station it is proposed to build an underground station, extending from the Charles river for about 1500 feet nearly to Haymarket square. In width this station would extend from about Portland street to Haverhill or Beverly streets.

Freight Yard at North Station
The North station would be demolished and the site of the famous old structure would become a freight yard. A much smaller above-ground station would connect by elevators and stairways with the tunnel station beneath. On either side of the four main through tracks four tracks would run between platforms to accommodate suburban traffic and facilitate rapid transit. Through a tunnel beneath the Charles river the four main tracks would reach East Cambridge and Somerville. A branch tunnel is planned to lead off to the north for the Fitchburg division. The Eastern and Western divisions would not leave the tunnel and become surface lines until near Everett.

IDLO CAMPERS DANCE

Held Enjoyable Party at
Lincoln Hall

The Idlo club held their first dancing party in Lincoln hall last night and the well attended affair proved to be one of the most enjoyable of the present season.

The hall was beautifully decorated with pink and white bunting, palms and flowers. Minor's orchestra, almost hidden on the stage by the elaborate decorations furnished excellent music for the dance order of twenty numbers and several extras. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the enjoyment of several so-called "moonlight dances," with a pleasing lighting effect.

Those responsible for the success of the affair and to whom much credit must be given for the unlimited enjoyment afforded those present are: General mgr., Percy H. Carrigher; assistant general manager, Edward Callahan; floor director, George O'Malley; assistant floor director, Joseph Connors; chief aid, Fred Harrington; aids, Ernest Mooney, Wilson Pollard, William Early, Paul Doherty and Daniel Callahan.

"Lefty" Flynn, Yale Athlete, and Bride, Who is Chorus Girl

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Maurice Bennett Flynn, whose ability to kick a football with his left foot gave him much fame at Yale and also the nickname of "Lefty," will not return to the Sheffield Scientific school at Yale, and that university has lost a star athlete. The reason for his quitting his college career is found in the fact that he is a married man. His bride has been a chorus girl in various musical organizations under the name of Irene Claire. They are planning a honeymoon trip of a few weeks, after which Mr. Flynn expects to go into business, perhaps with his father, who is wealthy and is a director in several enterprises, with an office at 2 Rector street. Mrs. Flynn's real name before her marriage was Rena Leary, and she is the daughter of a cab driver in Holyoke, Mass. Despatches from Holyoke say that when the girl was there on a Christmas visit she said she was the wife of a broker named McDonald. She denies that she made any such statement or that she had ever been married before the ceremony, that united her to the football player.

LIEUT. BECKER HOPEFUL

Confident That He Will

IS KNOWN AS "MAYOR OF THE DEATH HOUSE"

Lawrence J. Spahr, Prisoner at Sing Sing, Says Becker Is Most Felicitous Man in Place—Reads Bible

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Former Police Lieut. Becker, under sentence of death for the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal continues in a hopeful frame of mind in his cell at Sing Sing prison, according to one of his recent fellow prisoners, Lawrence J. Spahr, former corporal of the United States army, who was condemned to die for the murder of his sweetheart but who has just been sent from the death house to the jail at White Plains for a second trial tells the story of Becker's days at Sing Sing. Spahr says he was known as "the mayor of the death house" by virtue of being the best educated man there until Becker arrived and succeeded to the title.

"Becker confidently expects that he will get a new trial and will be acquitted," said Spahr. "He is the most religious man in the place and every night reads the Bible, and leads in the singing of two or three hymns and some times popular songs. He which the Rosenthal 'gunmen' join. Becker does not talk about his case, but spends most of his time studying up the legal points of it and he is usually in the hopeful frame of mind."

QUARANTINED TEACHERS WANT PAY

Petition School Board for Salary —Other Matters Taken Up at Last Night's Meeting

The members of the school board held an adjourned meeting last night, at 8:15 o'clock. Considerable routine business was transacted, most of it being presented by the superintendent in the form of suggestions or petitions. The first matter to come before the board was a petition by five local teachers, who during last month were quarantined by the board of health on account of scarlet fever cases. The teachers claimed full pay on the ground that they were unnecessarily prevented from teaching. On motion of Dr. Bagley the petition was laid on the table until the next regular meeting for their pay, he did sign the said payroll. He said the commission would not recognize a payroll from the school department unless signed by the superintendent and said he wished to know the pleasure of the committee in the matter, for future guidance. On motion of Mr. Farrington it was voted that the payroll bear the signature of the chairman of the committee of finance and the superintendent and that all other bills be stamped as evidence that they have been approved by the committee. Patrick Boland, a resident of Dracut, but a merchant of this city, petitioned the board that his nephew, Master Carr, who is living with him temporarily, be permitted to attend the Pawtucketville school. The superintendent explained that the boy's mother died a short time ago, this being the reason of the child removing to his uncle's home in Dracut. He also stated that Mr. Boland is a heavy tax payer in this city. On motion of Dr. Bagley the petition was granted. Seventeen Scandinavians of this city petitioned the committee on evening schools that one room in the Butler school be opened with a Scandinavian teacher and the petition was granted. Superintendent Molloy asked to have an understanding relative to his visiting schools outside of Lowell, and on motion of Dr. Bagley it was voted that the matter be left to the discretion of the chairman of the board. Principal Greene of the Moody school made a request for song books containing the selections corresponding with the Victoria records, which were purchased by parents of children attending the school and the matter was referred to the chairman of the committee on books and supplies. Adjourned at 10 o'clock.

THE OLD CITY COUNCILS

And New, With Their Methods Compared

A former resident, who was a "P.O." here in the days when John J. Donovan was mayor and there were more but democrats on guard at city hall, blew into town the other day, after an absence of several years. When he found that Monday was inauguration day at city hall, he became reminiscent, and he proceeded to "relieve his mind" of some of the "doings" of the "good old days." "Some thirty years ago," he said, "it was considered an honor to be a member of the city council, and men of well known capacity and ability did the city's work, although the city was then many thousands less in population and in valuation of real estate than today. Nearly forty men helped to manage the affairs of the city, and they worked with zeal for the good and welfare of their fellow-citizens. They had the faculty of getting more out of one dollar in those days than they get out of two today. It was a pleasure to see the way they managed their appropriations and the small amount of money they used to bring about important results. There were no big salaries for the men to scrap over, and some of the wealthiest and most influential citizens served the city as aldermen and councilmen without compensation. The only reward they received for their year's work would be an invitation given by the mayor, to attend a banquet at one of the hotels. At this banquet, when the strawberries were ripe, it was necessary to say that they all accepted and were present with their families on that occasion. Another thing that I remember about the former city government was the pleasant and happy way in which they brought their year's business to a close. At the last session of the year, there was always a very brief meeting for actual business, followed immediately by a mock session, which furnished more amusement and hilarity than a half dozen vaudeville shows. Another thing that has been abandoned for many years was the agreement among the councilmen and aldermen, that an absence from a regular meeting should pay a fine of 25 cents, which went into a fund for a final banquet at one of the hotels. At this banquet, another assessment was made and from the money raised in this way, a dinner was given for the in-going and out-going members. This dinner, with its speech-making and jollity was one of the pleasantest events of the year, and as a result of it, the new aldermen and councilmen felt well acquainted with each other when their term began. On inauguration day, it was the custom for the mayor to extend an invitation to every member of the municipal government, to an informal gathering at his residence. How different is the present system of our government, with less than six people shaping the destinies of our big thriving city. These men seem to lack all sociability and like to give each other hard knocks. Every meeting is one of wrangle and turmoil, with each member trying to turn the rights of the other. It is too bad we can't have the spirit of the good old times, when men joined in mutual esteem as well as in love of the city they served without remuneration.

Prescription Confidence

Why—You are SAFE When You Buy at Riker-Jaynes

Whenever you enter a Riker-Jaynes Drug Store you cannot fail to be impressed with the perfect system, extending to the very smallest detail.

This system, enforced in every branch of our business, is of inestimable benefit to those who desire to take advantage of our perfectly equipped

PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENTS

In these departments we are as near perfection as it is possible to be. In purchasing drugs we do not follow the old-fashioned drug store style, which consists in buying these articles from the jobber and taking it for granted that they are all right.

Our system in buying drugs for prescription work calls for purchasing these ingredients direct from headquarters and before using subjecting them to critical analysis in our laboratory in order to be sure they are of the required high standard.

For this reason you can rest assured that when a prescription is compounded at one of our stores the ingredients are of the very highest quality.

In Compounding Prescriptions. Every prescription entrusted to us to be filled is handled only by a most capable registered pharmacist. It not only has to be compounded by such a pharmacist, but is always checked by another equally well qualified registered man.

For this reason you can rest assured that when you receive your prescription from us it has been filled accurately, and exactly as your doctor ordered.

As for Our Prices. They are made as low as possible, considering the high standard of ingredients used and the expense of properly compounding them.

For this reason you can rest assured that the price you pay for a prescription filled at our stores is as low as the quality will justify.

THE ABOVE THREE REASONS

Can be summed up in the following few words:
The Purest and Best Ingredients
Skillful Compounding by Experienced Clerks
At a Very Reasonable Price
MAY WE HAVE YOUR PRESCRIPTION?

In order to show the confidence the public already have in our prescription business we take pleasure in stating that during the past year in our twenty-three stores in New England we have filled a total of 325,008 prescriptions. This is certainly very satisfactory to us, and from the warm support shown this branch of our business we have every reason to expect a very material increase during the coming year.

REFEREES' ASSOCIATION GIRL INSTANTLY KILLED

Soccer Officials Meet and Organize

LAWRENCE, Jan. 10.—One of the most important meetings ever held in the history of local soccer was held at Lanigan's cafe, Essex street, on Monday evening.

All the referees connected with local soccer attended. The meeting resulted in the formation of a referees' association to be known as the New England Referees' association.

Patrick G. Darcy was elected president; Thomas Riddell of Lowell vice-president; James E. Schofield, 78 Sutton street, North Andover, treasurer; secretary; and Messrs. W. D. Ryan, Haverhill, and F. McBride, Andover, auditors. The objects of the association are to protect the interests of the referees, to raise the standard of refereeing, to assist the league delegates whenever required, and to boost up soccer. A determined effort will be made to bring all the soccer referees in New England into membership. Any one who is intending becoming a referee will be wise if he applies to the secretary, James E. Schofield, at once for particulars of membership.

A deputation waited on the Moses Marshall cup delegates last evening at the Essex house to explain the objects and aims of the association.

This is the first soccer referees' association formed in the United States. The association intends to hold several smoke talks in the form of debates this winter which will be open to the general public, and the fans will be pleased at this news, as they will be very welcome innovations to relieve the monotony when the grounds are closed down.

In reply to his criticisms, the witness declared that Meyers invariably said that one had to have "literature" to sell the stocks.

Lowell Boy Met Death at the Groton School

Philip Nichols, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nichols of this city, met with a fatal accident yesterday afternoon at the Groton school, where he was a student. The young man in company with another classmate was sliding down a hill on a large sled and was steering, when suddenly he lost control of the sled and he was dashed against a tree.

His injuries were fatal for he died within a few minutes after the accident, while his companion escaped with but slight injuries.

Philip Nichols was a young man of rare promise, the idol of his family and of troops of friends. He was to have entered Harvard next year. He is survived by his mother and a younger brother, Carl, who is a student at another school.

Plumbers Suspended For alleged violations to the rules and regulations relative to plumbing, the board voted to request the state examiners of plumbing to forbid three local plumbers to engage in the business as master plumbers, or to work at their business as journeymen plumbers within the state of Massachusetts for a period of one week.

Meeting Called The meeting was called to order at 4.30 o'clock by the chairman, Dr. Humphreys, and all members were present. He said the epidemic is practically wiped out, although there remain about 200 cases in the city giving warning of old cases.

The board voted to permit Arthur Kenyon, driver of a milk team, to remove two cows following the removal of quarantine. The following motion was read by Dr. Carroll:

"Moved that Messrs. Lynde, Welch, and Campbell, in the opinion of the board of health, have violated rules and regulations relative to plumbing and that the board of health request the state examiners of plumbing to forbid these men, Lynde, Welch and Campbell, to engage in the business of plumbing as master plumbers, or to work at their business as journeymen plumbers within the state of Massachusetts for a period of one week; and that our inspector of plumbing be present at the hearing to be given by the state commission of plumbers to give the evidence that he has in his possession."

artificial foods. This is a remarkably good record as to the ability of our mothers to perform this important function. The importance of maternal nursing can not be overestimated. From the data gathered by this department for two years now it can be safely said that in Lowell at the present time the chances of life for a baby who is breast-fed are at least 10 times as great as a baby that is bottle-fed. During the year 1912 over 1500 mothers' instruction cards have been sent into the homes of these little ones by this department. "We still have the same problems before us. But they can and will be solved in the future some time. Even in the face of unsurmountable difficulties, we have traveled along the way and can afford to have that necessary optimism which catches glimpses of ultimate victory over our modern and many-sided hered."

Resinol

cured chapped, bleeding hands

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 23, 1912.—"My face and hands were chapped to such an extent that the cracks bled, and the burning was awful when I washed my face; it brought tears to my eyes. Of course my face and hands were a sight, and felt like a rasp. I tried several applications without results, but three applications of Resinol relieved me. I put Resinol Ointment all over my face and hands and arms, and kept it on all day, washed it off in the evening with Resinol Soap and put a little Ointment on, then put on full dress in the morning again. I noticed the benefit from Resinol when I washed the first time after using it. I was soon completely cured." (Signed) Miss H. de Martino, 505 E. 169th Street. Boston, Jan. 1, 1913.
The following correspondence from the C. C. C. Fire Hose and Rubber Co. was read:
Honorable Members of Municipal Council, Gentlemen:
Understanding that there has been considerable discussion by your body in regard to the proposed purchase of fire hose to be made by the city of Lowell, we are writing to ask if we may have an opportunity of having our representatives appear before your council to answer any questions that may arise at the time you are discussing this matter for final decision.
Our company has submitted a bid on your specifications for furnishing hose exactly according to the requirements as voted on by an earlier meeting of your city council, and we sincerely hope that, if given an opportunity of appearing before your council and explaining our proposition to you, we may be favored with your valued order for the hose.
Trusting that this may meet with your approval, we are,
Very truly yours,

An order to borrow $5000 for construction of sewers, the said amount to be paid by annual payments during 10 years, was read. Commissioner Donnelly informed the council of the request of the mayor that the money was to be used for the work on the Dutton street and Kirk avenue sewers, the appropriation being exhausted.

Engineer Kearney said the Dutton street sewer would cost about $1200 and that about $2500 is needed to complete it. ## BODY OF MISSING GIRL

Found by Boy Scout's at No. Providence

NO. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 10.

After two days search by the Boy Scouts and citizens the body of Miss Elsie Gill, 21, was found today in the Woodmanchester river. Miss Gill disappeared from her home Tuesday morning after announcing that she was going out to get a "breath of air."

It is believed by her relatives that she jumped into the river while her mind was temporarily deranged. She was known as a remarkable girl athletic and swimmer, but her mind was affected by straining her head against a rock while diving last summer.

The present legislation has changed the law so that capital punishment must be inflicted for the first degree murder.

FITZ PAID "NOTHING"

Files a Report on the Senatorship

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The secretary of the senate received yesterday from Mayor Fitzgerald and Congressman McCall statements of the expenditures in connection with their campaigns for senator from Massachusetts. In a sworn statement the mayor puts his expenditures down as "nothing."

Mr. McCall's expenditures, including money spent in his behalf by Samuel L. Powers and George Wm. Wilder, amounted to $2825.20 up to Jan. 7.

That Mr. McCall and the mayor acted almost simultaneously in mailing their accounts is shown by the fact that the envelope in the mayor's statement bears the postoffice registration number "40417," while Mr. McCall's bears the number "4121."

Mr. McCall's account shows that he paid the Republican state committee $250 on Oct. 1 and $250 on Nov. 2. These sums, Mr. McCall states, were given to be used as the committee chose, but that there is any doubt about the matter, he sends them with his own account.

On Jan. 7, according to Mr. McCall's statement, Samuel L. Powers gave to Alfred S. Lipp, chairman of a voluntary committee, $100 to be spent in locating Mr. McCall to the senate. Mr. McCall himself gave Mr. Hall $200 on Dec. 6 and another $250 on Jan. 7.

Mr. McCall says he has been informed that George L. Drury, chairman of the state committee, worked for him. McCall in Mr. Drury's district from Nov. 20 until Jan. 7, and that during that period he drew from Mr. Drury his regular salary, which amounted to $150, and was given $125.00 for expenses.

OFFICIATED

Major James E. O'Donnell and Commissioners Donnelly, Cummings and Barrett Were Present—The Officers

There was a large attendance of members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at A. O. H. hall last night when five local divisions gathered to hold the annual installation of officers. The exercises were very impressive and following the installation rites, a pleasing entertainment was given.

James Harold of Waltham, county president of the organization, was present to officiate at the installation and he was assisted by Vice President Daniel Hogan and Frank Kierce. The various officers of the divisions are the following:

Division 1—President, Daniel E. Hogan; vice president, Michael Casey; treasurer, Thomas McCann; financial secretary, James Sheehan; recording secretary, George Stewart.

Division 2—President, John Murphy; vice president, James Heary; treasurer, Dennis F. Lynch; financial secretary, John Cullen; recording secretary, John J. McKelvey.

Division 3—President, Daniel Riley; vice president, P. Mahoney; treasurer, Patrick Finnerty; recording secretary, Edward Flannery; financial secretary, Thomas Dorsey.

Division 4—President, John McNally; vice president, John Kenney; treasurer, John Hickey; financial secretary, William Nelson; recording secretary, Daniel F. Quinn.

Division 5—President, Patrick McCann; vice president, Patrick Kane; treasurer, Edward Kierce; financial secretary, Martin Sullivan; recording secretary, James Lillis.

The ceremony of installing the officers was a most impressive one and the union gathering of the various divisions last night was the largest of its kind in some years. Mayor James O'Donnell was present and briefly addressed the members, complimenting them on the excellent showing and the good work which they have performed. He spoke in glowing tribute of the Hibernian organization and its wonderful growth and progress. James O'Sullivan, Commissioner Lawrence Cummings and Andrew E. Barrett, County President Harold, County Vice-President Hogan, Daniel J. Murphy, the first state president of the A. O. H. in Massachusetts and the others delivered addresses on various topics relative to Hibernian matters and the good of the order. Patrick McCann, president of Division 2, presided over the gathering.

Mr. John Dalton and Commissioner James E. Donnelly, both well known as two of Lowell's leading singers, rendered several pleasing selected solos as a part of the evening's entertainment.

Following the St. Patrick's day convention which is to take place next Sunday afternoon, the five divisions installed last night in each division will meet to organize the Central council of the order, the ensuing real arrangements to have a number of delegates at the convention.

Last night during the course of the festivities, County President Harold of Waltham received the congratulations of the local members of the A. O. H. on his recent election to the board of aldermen of Waltham.

John Sheehan, retiring president of division 2 was presented a gold signet ring and watch chain, emblems of the organization, as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the members of the order in recognition of the good work which he has accomplished for the good of the order. The presentation speech was made by County President Harold.

The joint installation of the Hibernians last night was one of the most largely attended and successful that the history of the order in Lowell can recall.

NEVER SOLICITED A DIRECTORSHIP

George F. Baker on Stand Before Money Trust Investigating Committee Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Further examination of George F. Baker was expected to occupy the entire session of the house money trust investigating committee today. The committee desires to trace the co-operation of Mr. Baker and J. P. Morgan in the handling of issues of securities by railroads and industrial corporations as well as the joint interest of the two men in business and trust companies in New York and throughout the country. The committee will conclude its hearings for this week today and adjourn until next Tuesday.

When Mr. Baker resumed the stand today he asked permission to make a statement.

"You made me out such a great holder of directorships yesterday," he said to Mr. Undermyer, "that I wish to say that I never became a director or a voting trustee of any company at my own solicitation."

"We have just begun to ask you about your directorships," said Mr. Undermyer. He added that a list furnished by Mr. Baker's bank showed that directors in the First National bank held 53 directorships in other corporations. In 37 corporations members of J. P. Morgan & Co. and directors of the First National bank were common directors.

To Furnish List

Mr. Baker agreed to furnish a list of the corporations in which he himself was a director. He thought he held about 50 such places.

Mr. Undermyer asked Mr. Baker if he could supply a statement of the accounts by which the First National bank jointly with other institutions handled through syndicates issues of securities. The witness said his counsel had advised him that to demand this information was beyond the powers of the commission. The facts were now known by the controller of the currency and he believed the committee had no right to demand them for exposure to the public.

He passed to allow counsel to consider the legal phases.

A statement of the deposits of the First National bank was placed in the record. Mr. Baker said he believed the average deposits were about $100,000,000. On Nov. 1 the bank had 149 accounts with balances of $29,676,227.44. Mr. Undermyer went back to Mr. Baker's opposition to the publicity of bank assets, but he was unable to shake the banker's attitude.

Mr. Baker testified that the securities turned over by the First National bank to the First Securities Co. were largely those of companies in which he was a director or a voting trustee. Mr. Undermyer tried in vain to have him testify that the First Securities Co. and the First National bank were operated practically as a single concern. The witness did not want to divulge the price at which the securities company sold a part of its Chase bank stock to President Wiggins of the Chase. Mr. Undermyer did not press the question. Mr. Baker said that despite the sale a practical control of the company lay with the securities company and Mr. Wiggins. He remarked that often a small percentage of actual stockholdings insured control of a large corporation.

Tentative Refusal

A request for a list of all stocks held by the securities company met with a tentative refusal and again the question was passed to allow conference with counsel.

Mr. Undermyer placed in the record a statement to show that anthracite from the Pennsylvania fields was shipped to the seaboard in the following proportion by the railroads: Reading 21 per cent, Central of New Jersey 13, Lehigh Valley 17, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western 15, Erie 11, Pennsylvania 8, Delaware & Hudson 10, New York, Ontario & Western 4.

Mr. Undermyer tried to bring out that Mr. Baker controlled or was interested in all but the last three roads. He asked about the sale of the Jersey Central to the Reading. Mr. Baker could not remember the details, but said that he sold the Jersey Central to J. P. Morgan, who was a voting trustee of the Reading.

A long conference between Mr. Baker, Fisher A. Baker and former Senator John C. Spooner, his counsel, ended with a request that the question

WILL NOT ABANDON ADRIANOPLE OR ISLANDS IN AEGEAN SEA

Turkey Threatens to Recall the Peace Delegates From London--Situation Practically Unchanged

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The threats of Turkey to recall her peace delegates from London to Constantinople and the menace of a Rumanian invasion of Bulgaria tend to give the impression that the Balkan situation has become more grave within the last 24 hours. In reality, however, it is practically unchanged.

Much is expected to result from this afternoon's meeting at the foreign office of the ambassadors of the European powers, who are expected to reach a decision concerning the collective attitude of Europe.

It is not expected that the peace conference will resume before next week and in support of this view it is announced that Premier Venizelos of Greece intends to leave on Saturday for Oxford, where he will visit the colleges of the university and spend the night. Today he lunched with the Right Hon. Charles Hobhouse and in the course of conversation emphasized the Hellesic claims over the islands of the Aegean sea, expressing the hope that the country which under Gladstone gave to Greece the Ionian islands will not refuse its assistance now that Gladstone's disciples are in power.

Reached Pasha, the leader of the Turkish peace delegation, today reiterated the determination of the Turks not to abandon the fortress of Adrianople or the islands in the Aegean sea. He said: "What kind of a conference is this where all the concessions emanate from one side? Had this been known before hand there would have been no need to go to the trouble of bringing together a peace conference in London."

ADVISE TO TURKEY TO YIELD ON QUESTION OF ADRIANOPLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 10.—The European ambassadors in the Ottoman capital have succeeded in drawing up a colorful note which will probably be presented on Monday next to the Turkish government. The note is given to Turkey in this document to yield on the question of Adrianople but no suggestion is made of pressure being brought to bear by the powers to insure the acceptance of this advice.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Abraham Tompkins died here today indirectly the victim of a poisoning plot 49 years ago. In February, 1864, Tompkins' sister Theresa received a letter from a jealous lover warning her not to keep company with a certain young man. She did not heed the warning and poison was placed in the well. She was the first to be taken ill and died within a week. Another sister was bedridden for 25 years before she died. Tompkins was paralyzed but had been able to run a little news store. The man who poisoned the well was never caught.

FAVOR VOTES FOR WOMEN A CONVENT FOR NUNS

Supporters Are to Form Picket to Commons de Lourdes Parish

LONDON, Jan. 10.—When the franchise reform bill comes up in the British parliament tomorrow the members of the house of commons will find all the approaches to the chamber picketed by actresses and other supporters of the movement in favor of votes for women.

Throughout the entire debate day and night the women intend to be present and to buttonhole members of the house as they pass in and out.

The Actresses' Franchise League, which is organizing the movement, has called for help of all similar societies in making a peaceful demonstration in support of the adoption of an amendment to the bill intended to give the suffrage to women. They hope to be successful, although the acts of their militant sisters have greatly alienated sympathy from the cause in the United Kingdom.

At the same time the militant section of the suffragettes is said to be preparing to provide a more exciting time for members of parliament.

At present the suffragettes have a bare majority in the house of commons if all of them vote for the measure. It is understood, however, that many of them have at least temporarily withdrawn their support because of the methods adopted by the militants.

HERBSUsed to Induce Widow of Rich Puller
King to Give Up Her Fortune—Sult
New For Recovery

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Favorable reports of a midnight reading of the whims of fate in a boiling pot of herbs brought from a witches' cavern on a island in the West Indies, induced Mrs. Isabelle V. Adams, widow of Al Adams, "policy king," to sign a note for $100,000 in favor of Mrs. Marguerite Gilbert, a professional medium, according to testimony in a trial of unusual interest in supreme court yesterday. Mrs. Gilbert, recognized in her own mystic world as "Hega," is plaintiff against Mrs. Adams in a suit to recover the amount of the note.

"Hega" with insistent demands for more money, was the shade who, according to Mrs. Adams' story of representations made to her, translated what the boiling pot had to divulge. After giving Mrs. Gilbert sums of $1000, $200 and $500, so that "Hega" might visit the island in search of fresh herbs and blossoms, Mrs. Adams said she handed the plaintiff a $500 note in return for promised "protection" for herself and family during a trip to Mexico. When informed that "Hega" considered this amount too small, Mrs. Adams said, she wrote the $100,000 note, telling Mrs. Gilbert to keep it until the defendant had made a bequest for the same amount in her will. When this provision was made in the will, Mrs. Gilbert refused to return the note, Mrs. Adams testified.

CHELMSFORD CENTRE

The Village Improvement association held a musical social Wednesday evening, consisting of violin selections and a dance number being present. It was held at Liberty hall, South Chelmsford, at 8 o'clock. Ice cream was sold and a large part of the attendance hailed from the Centre and started from the postoffice at 7.30 o'clock in Mr. Fred Hazen's large sleigh. The officers of the Village Improvement society are: President, Edgar Parkhurst; vice president, Heady Park; secretary, Wilbur Lapham, and treasurer, Mrs. Heady Park. This organization has not only been a great benefit to the town, but has created a very social spirit which is much advocated and in some instances needed.

Mr. Fred Park, who recently purchased a large well drilled and has been very busy with it, considering the number of persons in that business in this vicinity, is to purchase another drill.

The marriage of Miss Helene Cinnopulos to Mr. Atanasios Koukoulou, both of Chelmsford, took place Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Charles Ellis performed the marriage ceremony at his home on Westford street. The witnesses were Mrs. Charles Ellis and Mr. Michael Lallas of the East village.

Exports of Agricultural Implements
More than 10 million dollars' worth of agricultural implements were exported from the United States to foreign countries in the calendar year just ended. Ten years ago the value of the exportation of this class of manufactures was 15 million dollars; 20 years ago it was but 4 million dollars. Thus the value of this particular class of manufactures exported in 1912 was nearly two and a half times as much as a decade ago and ten times as much as two decades ago.

All the world, apparently, buys American agricultural implements. Mowers and reapers exported last year went to more than 75 countries and colonies, including every grand division of the world, while other classes of agricultural implements were widely distributed in the year's export trade. Europe alone took 21 million dollars' worth of the 40 million dollars' worth of farming implements exported in 1912; North America, 9 million; and South America, 9 million dollars' worth. Russia is the largest single buyer of our agricultural implements, the value exported thereto in the year just ended having been approximately 16 million dollars, against 11 million to Argentina, 7 million to Canada, and about 3 million dollars each to France and Germany. Thus the leading buyers of our agricultural implements are, in the order of magnitude, Russia, Argentina, and Canada, with France and Germany about equal in the value of their purchases, though in each case materially less than three countries already named—Russia, Argentina, and Canada.

American mowers and reapers seem to be especially in demand in Russia, which took in the fiscal year 1912 a million dollars' worth out of a total of 17 million dollars' worth of mowers and reapers exported. In the group, plows and cultivators, Canada and Argentina are the largest purchasers, Canada and Argentina each taking about 1.3 million dollars' worth out of a total exportation of 7 million dollars.

The recent classification of the Bureau of foreign and domestic commerce divides the group of agricultural implements exported into mowers and reapers, plows and cultivators, planters and seeders, threshers, and rakes and loaders. Of the 40 million dollars' worth of agricultural implements exported during the calendar year, 21 million dollars' worth was mowers and reapers; 7 million plows and cultivators; 5 million threshers; 1.3 million planters and seeders; and a half million dollars, rakes and loaders.

CRIES OF "IT'S A LIE"

By Women at the Wellesley ChurchWHEN MOVEMENT WAS STARTED TO ELECT NEW PASTORRev. George Natress Was Ousted By Vote of St. Andrew's Episcopal
Church

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—The stormiest meeting in the already troubled history of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Wellesley, came last night when an attack made upon the Rev. George Natress by R. Kinsman Sawyer, the senior warden, was abruptly halted by cries of "It's a lie" from women present.

The meeting opened with an attempt by those opposed to the Rev. Natress, who has been asked to resign, but refused to do so under fire, to elect a successor to him. In the midst of cries of protest the vote was taken. It resulted in an overwhelming majority for those who desire a new pastor. When this was announced, the minister arose from his seat.

"I have not yet resigned," he said. "You may believe I have, but this is not the case. As a matter of fact, I have sent a letter to Bishop Lawrence, saying that I will probably resign, but not before Oct. 1, 1913."

Senior Warden Sawyer then took the floor.

"Mr. Natress has refused to work with the vestry," he declared. "He has worked as he pleased." "It's a lie," shrieked several women in the audience.

Sixteen Are Loyal

Miss Agnes Edward Rothery, representing the sixteen members of the church who remain loyal to the minister, was on her feet in a moment.

"The vestry of the church! It was run like a club room," she declared. "The proper spirit has not been shown. Dr. Natress. He has tried to make everything as pleasant as possible for the members of the congregation. If hope of this attempt to dispossess him by any chance proves successful he will remain in Wellesley as a resident of the town. He is an example by following which many residents of this town might profit."

This was followed by a motion to adjourn the meeting for three months and leave certain offices of the church vacant. This was defeated.

Senior Warden Sawyer then read a statement which stated that Bishop Lawrence favored the views of the vestrymen in an election.

New Officers Elected

The minister has received a salary of $1500 a year for preaching two sermons a week, one speaker declared.

The meeting wound up with the re-election of the vestrymen opposed to the retention of Dr. Natress. He and his loyal sixteen still hold the fort, however, as far as his continued service as minister is concerned.

Historic Flags Donated

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 10.—Edward Tuck of Paris, benefactor of the New Hampshire Historical society yesterday added to his gifts to the society securities valued at $65,000 and the two only battle flags of a New Hampshire

They have been held in England until their purchase recently by Mr. Tuck. Only the lacquer of the securities is available to the society, to be used for its general purposes.

Umbrella Duel

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Because of a duel fought with umbrellas, Mrs. Anna Liss of 118 Shawmut avenue and Morris Gasset, also of the South End, appeared in the police court charged with mutual assault and battery upon each other.

After a lengthy hearing, Judge Murray found both guilty, and placed the woman on probation and fined Gasset $15.

WHAT DYSPYPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE
Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, therefore, due to acidity, therefore stomach sufferers should, wherever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by its action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in food value and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in the vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products I would suggest that you should try a meal of 100 parts of food which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a half teaspoonful of Magnesia Compound in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Magnesia Compound is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It is not a medicine, and has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, it thus removes the source of the irritation which induces the dyspeptic feeling. It does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of desiring an induced indigestion which drives in the use of medicine. The acid—the cause of all the trouble—get a little Magnesia Compound from your druggist, eat what you want at your usual meal, take a course of the Magnesia Compound as directed above, and see if I'm not right.

The United States Repair Ship Panther Missing After Sailing for Cuba---Naval Authorities Worried

THE REPAIR SHIP PANTHER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The naval authorities are worried about the disappearance of the repair ship Panther, which sailed Jan. 2 from New York for Guantanamo, Cuba. The boat is well as other naval and merchant vessels along the coast and when efforts to pick her up after the recent storm failed the fear that she had suffered a serious mishap grew strong.

Liggett's Hall & Lyon Stores

An International Word of Thanks

Viewing the hundreds of letters and resolutions each mail brings us—commending Liggett's Hall & Lyon stores for throwing out all liquors, we feel that we have made a flying start for the year 1913.

These messages of approval come from almost every city in the United States and Canada and from every class of citizen. From New England in particular we have been inundated with resolutions from religious and civic bodies.

Letters from physicians—who more than anyone else are interested in keeping the drug business up to high ethical standards, have been numerous and gratifying.

Widespread approval has been given in the daily press, and in religious papers and publications dealing with the liquor trade as well as the drug trade.

We may not be able to answer every one of them in the most practical way we know how—

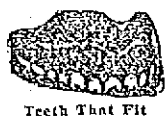

By giving safer, and better drug store service than was ever known before.

By making each Liggett store the best store of its kind in its own particular community and through superior service and fair prices continuing to be AMERICA'S GREATEST DRUG STORES.

PLAN TO ABOLISH NO. STATION

Tunnel to South Station at Cost of $50,000,000 Being Considered by Railroad Men

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Plans for the abolition of the North station and the construction of a tunnel beneath the city which will directly connect the Boston & Maine railroad with the New Haven system have been prepared by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company.

New Haven officials have already conferred with the Boston Transit commission regarding the construction of the Summer street subway to Dorchester with underground exits and entrances connecting beneath Dewey square with the proposed railroad tunnel.

The estimated cost of the four-tracked tunnel is about $50,000,000. The engineers believe it could be built in three years. It would necessitate the immediate electrification of the New Haven and Boston & Maine railroads.

Governor Foss has assured President Charles S. Mellen of his approval and support of the tunnel scheme, provided the New Haven road takes a 50-year lease of the Boston & Maine.

Wants 25-Year Control
It was reported last night by a high official of the New Haven railroad that a 25-year lease would be satisfactory to President Mellen and that he felt confident of financing the tremendous project if he were assured of at least 25 years of full control of the Boston & Maine.

Though the New Haven railroad engineers have already worked out the details of the stupendous scheme, no bill or petition has been prepared for the legislature. It is planned to utilize the public demand for electrification and better service to force through the legislation needed to permit the construction of the tunnel.

Governor May Urge Act
In his message to the general court, Governor Foss referred to the urgent need of "physical connection" of the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroads. It is expected that he will ask for the passage of an act which will authorize President Mellen to carry out his plans.

The magnitude of the tunnel scheme and its far reaching effects cannot be appreciated by one not accustomed to deal with large figures and fully conversant with the railroad situation in New England.

It means that Boston would become a principal way station on a thorough transportation line from eastern Canada to the west and south.

Cross-City Highway

One feature proposed by the New Haven officials makes them confident of the support of the chamber of commerce. This is a great cross-city thoroughfare, from the South to the present North station, following the course of the four-track tunnel.

Though the tunnel is planned to make a direct connection of the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroad tracks, it is to extend a mile or more beyond in either direction.

One branch would begin at the eastern end of the Back Bay station. Here the Providence division trains would enter on a slight grade, descending gradually until near the South station they would run about 50 feet underground.

The Midland and Plymouth division trains would start down grade at about the intersection of Dorchester avenue and West Sixth street in South Boston, entering on the same level as the Providence division at the South station.

Station Far Underground
The present underground station, planned for suburban traffic and never used, it is proposed to drop down still lower, and make the regular Boston station of all through trains.

From Summer street extension it is proposed to extend Dorchester avenue along the water front to Northern avenue. The tunnel line follows this extension beneath Congress street and Northern avenue, across Purchase street, east of Fort Hill square, along High street, under Broad and India streets, Custom House square east of the custom house, along Commercial street, under Fulton, along Cross street to Sullivan and Washington streets, east of Haymarket square, and thence along Haverhill street to a point between the old Fitchburg station and the North station.

Cross-City Thoroughfare
Above this course would be the cross-city thoroughfare for teaming, actually the roof of the tunnel, in which powerful electric locomotives would be whisking passenger and freight trains beneath the city of Boston.

Freight Yard at North Station
The North station would be demolished and the site of the famous old structure would become a freight yard. A much smaller above-ground station would connect by elevators and stairways with the tunnel station beneath. On either side of the four main through tracks spur tracks would run between platforms to accommodate suburban traffic and facilitate rapid transit. Through a tunnel beneath the burg division. The Eastern and Western divisions would not leave the tunnel to reach East Cambridge and Somerville. A branch tunnel is planned to lead off to the north for the Fitchburg division. The Eastern and Western divisions would not leave the tunnel and become surface lines until near Everett.

SPEAKING ILL OF THE PRESIDENT

There is a law in Germany that forbids anybody to speak ill of the emperor. The real assumption behind it is not that "the king can do no wrong," as monarchy once taught, but that the head of a great nation should be held in respect. Unfortunately in this country any man can say what he believes concerning the president, and often much more than he believes, to the end that public opinion may be prejudiced against him.

We say unfortunately, because our nation is too great to be held in contempt by any of its citizens, and the office of president is one of such great responsibility that when any man is elected to it by a majority of the voters, criticism should cease, at least until the chief executive has proven his incapacity. Taking the country as a whole, such criticism does cease, and any new president, whatever his politics, enters upon his duties with the cordial good wishes of the people.

Occasionally, however, there is such carping criticism and covert innuendo, that not infrequently harm can be traced directly to it. Such a case has just occurred in the neighboring city of Fitchburg. There has been a run on the postal savings bank at the post office there, and scores of Italians have withdrawn their savings. Now as there is no institution in the whole United States safer than the postal savings bank, the postmaster was disturbed by the withdrawal of the funds, and began an investigation. He learned that somebody had told the Italians that the new president of the United States was "no good," and that their money would not be safe after he became the head of the government. No amount of argument on the part of the postal clerks could convince them to the contrary. They believed the man who had spoken ill of the president, and they were not willing to trust their money to the latter's keeping.

Absurd, was it not? Even the bitterest political opponent of Woodrow Wilson would refuse such a story. And yet there are tens of thousands of people who have so recently come to the country that they do not yet understand all of its institutions. Rumor is heeded by them; gossip speaks loudly; scandal is a compelling voice. Because of them, if for no other reason, we must speak no ill of the head of the government, neither now nor hereafter.

SAVING A CITY

When the city of Lawrence went under a commission form of government a little more than a year ago, it was virtually a bankrupt corporation. And on top of that came one of the worst strikes in the history of New England, with rioting and social disturbances of every sort, and the eyes of the whole country for a time were focused upon the city.

Yet the new commission has just made, in the opinion of the Lawrence Telegram, one of the most encouraging financial reports ever given in the city. "And one of the best showings that could possibly be made in favor of the change in the charter." Every department in the city closed the year without an overdraft, an almost unprecedented occurrence in Lawrence, and there was a balance of nearly $600,000 in the treasury. At the beginning of the year a temporary loan of half a million was necessary to discharge accumulated debts and overdrafts bequeathed by the previous administration, but the loan of $100,000 made for paying more than sufficed, so that there was a balance to turn into the treasury at the end of the year.

It is well to give credit where it is due. It was not all smooth sailing in Lawrence last year, and it was even necessary for the voters to recall one member of the school board, but the point is that the municipal council honestly tried to give good government, and has something to show for its efforts. The same thing is true of Lowell. There are many municipal problems not solved last year, that have yet to be worked out; but there was an earnest effort, on the whole, to give the city better government, and Lowell is better off today than she was a year ago. With the experience thus gained, the progress in 1913 should be much greater, and the end of the present year should furnish a report that will convert the last scoffers at the plan of government by commission.

SEEKING EMPLOYMENT

In spite of all the modern methods of bringing the person seeking labor, and the one seeking employment together, there are scores in the city every day who fail to find the work that is waiting for them.

This applies especially to women. The death or sickness of the husband often forces the wife to seek employment that will allow her to be at home during a portion of the day. About the only opportunity open to her under such circumstances is to do washing or general housework in the home. There was a time when the highest wage that a woman could expect for this work was a dollar for a full day, but the demand within the past five years has brought about a better return, so that there is now employment at 15 cents an hour, and in the case of women skilled in their work, even a better wage.

These women, available to work from one to three days a week at a house, and going from one home to another as they are desired, are often called "accommodators." At the present time the demand for such work in Lowell far exceeds the supply, although there are probably two score women seeking such employment. What is the reason? It is simple enough. The women who want the "accommodator" do not know how to reach her. Each may spend several days in trying to find the other.

FIRE-PROOF CONSTRUCTION

Mr. J. A. Robinson in his address before the Lowell underwriters deplored the fact that in the United States the fire losses annually offset fifty per cent of the new construction in the country. The chief reason for this, he pointed out, was because fire-proof construction was not insisted upon, as is the case in European countries. Nevertheless, the cost of construction in this country at the present time makes the fire-proof building the only one that is a safe investment, since tenants are continually moving from the old fashioned structures into those where the fire risk has been reduced to a minimum. And professional men and others occupying offices find their insurance rates lower in the latter building than they do in the one that, if not a firetrap in itself, may be close to a building that is.

PRICE OF EGGS

Eggs are becoming less expensive—one cannot say cheaper, because they are still dear,—but whether because the hens are laying for the consumer, or because the Consumers' league is laying for the egg trust, it is difficult to determine. During the past week the farms about Lowell have reported a heavy increase in the egg output, but the cold weather may serve to curtail it again. At any rate, what eggs are available at this season ought to go into the market and not into cold storage for the purpose of maintaining prices. There is a state law now in force that will make it an easy matter to determine just when the cold storage accumulation does begin again.

Wilfrid Wheeler, the new secretary of the Massachusetts board of agriculture, is a Middlesex county farmer, so that the towns in this part of the state ought to be brought into close relation with the department. He is a successful agriculturist in Concord, has original ideas, and enjoys a wide acquaintance. Massachusetts farms do not begin to produce the food required by her cities, and millions of dollars are paid annually for the products of other states. Consequently the development of our agriculture will add directly to the wealth of our people. Mr. Wheeler, as directing officer of the state board, has an unusual opportunity for effective service.

Of course the goat that upset Rear Admiral Doyle aboard one of our battleships has made him the butt of the country. It would have been much wiser had the admiral ignored the incident and told his wife that he slipped upon the ice, but the order prohibiting all goats from inhabiting ships of the squadron makes it apparent that the naval officer came off second best, and still feels sore over the experience. One can imagine the marine guard trying not to smile when it now presents arms to the commander of the Norfolk navy yard.

The war minister of France reviewed 73 army airships recently. Germany has more than 200 in commission. England has made purchases in both France and the United States for her army. But congress has cut the appropriation for our own aerial war fleet so that we have less fliers than the republic of Mexico. If we can afford dreadnaughts at several million apiece, why not airships at a few thousand?

The astonishing fact that the 11,633 deaths in Boston last year is that heart disease caused more of them than any other affliction. What a comment this is upon the pace of modern city life. Incidentally the death rate was the lowest in the history of the city. Were the Boston heart stronger, the city would be a remarkably healthful place in which to live.

A Philadelphia woman whose death occurred recently left a fortune of $150,000 to a son who has been insane for 50 years. The will was drawn 20 years ago. It is reasonable to inquire whether the poor woman had forgotten her son or the will.

AT THE CLUB

"Aw, come, now, stick around, be a sport and stay for a good time," came in unison from Bill and Joe to their friend Bob, who was making preparation for departure after a very brief visit at the club. "What's the matter with you anyway?" Bill continued to expostulate, "you used to be always ready to make a night of it. You're fast becoming a regular old family man."

"Don't be a quitter," Joe put in, "we guarantee you'll not be sorry if you stay."

Bob continued to shake his head, laughing the while at the words of his friends. "No use, boys," he replied, "I'm going home now."

"I'm going home now," he repeated, "I've reformed since the last blow-out we had; New Year's resolution, you know."

The other two men groaned in disapproval. "Wow!" yelled Bill, "listen to old Bobby making New Year's resolutions. Honest, is there anything the matter with you," turning to Mr. Bob?

"Better keep up with the times, on top," philosophized Joe. "You're not old fashioned enough to live any longer for a moment that keeps the New Year's resolution is going to be in style this year. Come back to party, old boy."

"Listen fellows," said Bob, coming in to rest for a moment on the arm of the great Morris chair in which Bill was lounging. "I'll admit I used to be a night hawk and 'one of the boys.' After the banquets and spreads and general big nights we used to have here, at which I was usually the liveliest among you and the ring leader in a good share of the exploits, I used to wander out on the street when the street cars had long since been taken to the barn and all the motormen and conductors were in bed and asleep. When I had enough of Uncle Sam's good currency left to hire a cab or taxi I did so; when the necessary funds had vanished in the course of the evening's festivities I used to spend the night here or like home about to greet the milkman as he was leaving the bottles on the steps. By George, more than once I heartily wished I had been better acquainted with that good rich milk when I awoke in the morning wondering if my head was as big as it felt. Besides, my wife registered a kick and I heartily agree with her on that score now. She used to say that it did not look well to the neighbors to have me being delivered at the door in a hack at that hour when good people are supposed to be sleeping, even though I was sober when I came home, she said, I should stay at home, live and get acquainted with my family; and then again people would be ready to infer that I came in a hack because I couldn't walk. So, boys, it's no more big nights for me, no more taxis, no more cabs and no more early confabs with the milkman and the policeman along the route. I'm resolved to lead the simple life from now on and tend strictly to business. This isn't a sermon; merely an explanation of my new view of the thing, and forgive me for saying I think you two would do well to cut out the high life yourselves. You can laugh if you like, but you will come around in time to see it that way. He arose, and with a hearty "Good night," disappeared through the doorway while his companions watched him.

"Well, I'll be haunted," ejaculated Bill. Bob's reformed. "However," laughing, I'll wager a good dinner he'll fall off in a month at the most."

"And I'll take you up on that bet," said Joe. "Bob will stick and by Jove he's right. When he says a thing he generally means it and if I'm not greatly mistaken, he won't be here at any more blow-outs. I'm hanged if I don't believe I will follow his example and I would advise you to do likewise."

Seen and Heard

The smoke inspector has asked the municipal council for a commensurate with the value of his services; in other words he bids them "Smoke up."

Nearly everyone in the employ of the city wants a "raise" but the only one to get a raise without asking for it was Commissioner Donnelly, who is now on the second floor.

"Daughter," called the conventional comic-paper father from his regular position at the top of the stairs, at the well-known hour of 11:55 p. m., "doesn't that young man know how to say good night?"

"Does he?" echoed the young lady in the darkened hall; "well I should say he does."

Another thing we missed in the happy days when we were an innocent little boy was the opportunity to look forward hopefully to being an automobile bandit when we grew up.

With several sub-committees of hunters, each vying with the other in making its plans novel and entertaining the annual ball of Lowell lodge of Elks on next Wednesday evening, promising to be the biggest in the history of the lodge.

Of the five cases before the grand jury at the session held in this city on Wednesday only two were Lowell cases, a fact that caused Assistant District Attorney Nelson Brown to remark: "Lowell is a remarkable city when with a population of over 100,000, including all nationalities, it produces only two cases in a month for the grand jury."

And while he was wondering some one started the latest problem of the New Year, namely: "How much is two-thirds of five?" Quoth the dopest: "When mother had only three eggs for breakfast in a family of five she scrambled them, but you can't scramble a school board. When she had only three apples for dessert in a family of five she made apple sauce, but you can't make apple sauce out of a school board. Two-thirds of five in figures is 3.33333333333, etc. No matter how you figure it there is that inevitable bunch of three hanging on."

Parcel Post Pete is his name. The latest aspiration of fame. Wild schemes are afoot. To get Peter's goat. It's easy—the goat's now so lame.

Sauerkraut carefully packed. Eggs that get easily cracked. Say Peter, "the chickens." When cat popped the chickens. And flip, over things neatly stacked.

Poor Peter is seeking a place. Where "possums" won't jump in his face. Where lobsters alive. From the bag will just dive. And leap the mud men a mad chase.

CHARLES W. SPALDING

Tells of His Financial Transactions in Connection With the Illinois University

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Charles Warren Spalding, president of the Globe Savings bank, when it failed in 1907, and treasurer of the University of Illinois, to which he was held responsible for $549,000, filed here yesterday a petition in the superior court attacking Gov. Charles Deneen of Illinois, former Gov. Richard Yates, former Mayor Busse of Chicago and a number of others.

Spalding, who served a penitentiary term after the bank failed, demands that the defendants account to him for the disposition of securities he turned over to the university to make good the half million dollars he owed the institution.

Spalding claims that disbursements by him for the university had reduced his true liability to $150,000. The securities and property he turned over to make this good, he says, were worth $236,000.

LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE—"CASCARETS."

WHAT GLASSES ARE TO WEAK EYES—CASCARETS ARE TO WEAK BOWELS

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need "Cascarets." One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a fast can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is "Cascarets" and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

SEVEN GIRLS RESCUED

Fell Through Ice--Pulled Out by Boys

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Seven young girls who had broken through the ice in Carroll pond, West Roxbury, yesterday, where they had been skating, were rescued, one after the other by John Nelson and Harold Kern, about 14 years each.

The children, none of whom is over 14 years, had been skating over the thin ice of the pond, which was just thick enough to bear the weight of about two in the same spot. When they joined hands and slanted across the thinner ice at the center of the pond it gave way, dropping them all in. They were all floundering about in the middle of the pond when the two boys, who had been skating at the other end of the pond, arrived.

The boys reached out with their hockey sticks, hooking the clothing of the girls, or giving them a grip of the end, and eventually pulled all the seven out of the water.

The first to be pulled out was Miss Fanny Johnson of 7 Goethe street, the daughter of Mr. John Johnson. Next came her sister, Cecilia. A Miss Koch, Miss Erickoff, another Miss Johnson, of no relation to the Goethe street family, were pulled out in their turn. Two other girls were then rescued.

Amundsen and the South Pole

No one should miss the opportunity to see and hear such a celebrated man as the Norwegian explorer, Capt. Roald Amundsen, who is to give an illustrated lecture on his discovery of the South Pole, at the Opera House Monday evening, Jan. 13. The lecture will be illustrated with beautiful colored slides and moving pictures, taken in the Antarctic regions. Capt. Amundsen speaks English fluently and from this description of the unveiling of one of the greatest of our earth's secrets will reveal the dauntless courage, unflinching perseverance and wonderful foresight that carried Capt. Amundsen and his hand through the dangers of the mountains of ice to the South Pole, thus adding another wreath of laurels he has already won as the first successful navigator of the North West Passage, and the discoverer of the North Magnetic Pole.

In recognition of his achievements he has received decorations of the very highest order from crown heads, from scientific societies and from many universities throughout the world.

IDLO CAMPERS DANCE

Held Enjoyable Party at
Lincoln Hall

The Idlo club held their first dancing party in Lincoln hall last night and the well attended affair proved to be one of the most enjoyable of the present season.

The hall was beautifully decorated with pink and white bunting, palms and flowers. Minner's orchestra, almost hidden on the stage by the elaborate decorations furnished excellent music for the dance order of twenty numbers and several extras. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the enjoyment of several so-called "moonlight dances," with a pleasing lighting effect.

Those responsible for the success of the affair and to whom much credit must be given for the unlimited enjoy-

"Lefty" Flynn, Yale Athlete, and Bride, Who is Chorus Girl

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Maurice Bennett Flynn, whose ability to kick a football with his left foot gave him much fame at Yale and also the nickname of "Lefty," will not return to the Sheffield Scientific school at Yale, and that university has lost a star athlete. The reason for his quitting his college career is found in the fact that he is a married man. His bride has been a chorus girl in various musical organizations under the name of Irene Claire. They are planning a honeymoon trip of a few weeks, after which Mr. Flynn expects to go into business, perhaps with his father, who is wealthy and is a director in several enterprises, with an office at 2 Rector street. Mrs. Flynn's real name before her marriage was Lena Leary, and she is the daughter of a cab driver in Holyoke, Mass. Despatches from Holyoke say that when the girl was there on a Christmas visit she said she was the wife of a broker named McDonald. She denies that she made any such statement or that she had ever been married before the ceremony that united her to the football player.

LIEUT. BECKER HOPEFUL

Confident That He Will

IS KNOWN AS "MAYOR OF THE DEATH HOUSE"

Lawrence J. Spahr, Prisoner at Sing Sing, Says Becker is Most Intelligent Man in Place—Heads Bible

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Former Police Lieut. Becker, under sentence of death for the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal continues in a hopeful frame of mind in his cell at Sing Sing prison, according to one of his recent fellow prisoners, Lawrence J. Spahr, former corporal of the United States army, who was condemned to die for the murder of his sweetheart but who has just been sent from the death house in the jail at White Plains for a second trial tells the story of Becker's days at Sing Sing.

Spahr says he was known as "the mayor of the death house" by virtue of being the best educated man there until Becker arrived and succeeded to the title.

"Becker confidently expects that he will get a new trial and will be acquitted," said Spahr. "He is the most religious man in the place and every night reads the Bible and leads in the singing of two or three hymns, and some times popular songs, in which the Rosenthal 'gunman' John Becker does not talk about his case but spends most of his time studying up the legal points of it and he is usually in the hopeful frame of mind."

"Mr. Redmond Welch, Superintendent of Police, Lowell, Mass.
"Dear Sir: I beg to inform you that I have appointed James E. Holland, provisionally, a sergeant of police of the city of Lowell, the appointment to date commencing January 6, 1913, and you will please make a record of such appointment."

QUARANTINED TEACHERS WANT PAY

Petition School Board for Salary —Other Matters Taken Up at Last Night's Meeting

The members of the school board held an adjourned meeting last night. All members were present and the chairman, Dr. Lambert, called to order at 8:15 o'clock. Considerable routine business was transacted, most of it being presented by the superintendent in the form of suggestions or petitions.

The first matter to come before the board was a petition by five local teachers, who during last month were quarantined by the board of health on account of scarlet fever cases. The teachers claimed full pay on the ground that they were unnecessarily prevented from teaching. On motion of Dr. Barclay the petition was laid on the table until the next regular meeting for their pay, he did sign the said payroll. He said the commissioner would not recognize a payroll from the school department unless signed by the superintendent and said he wished to know the pleasure of the committee in the matter for future guidance.

On motion of Mr. Farington it was voted that the payroll bear the signature of the chairman of the committee of finance and the superintendent and that all other bills be stamped as evidence that they have been approved by the committee.

Patrick Moland, a resident of Dracut, but a merchant of this city, petitioned the board that his nephew, Master Carr, who is living with him temporarily, be permitted to attend the Pay-tucketville school. The superintendent explained that the boy's mother died a short time ago, this being the reason of the child removing to his uncle's home in Dracut. He also stated that Mr. Moland is a heavy tax payer in this city. On motion of Dr. Barclay the petition was granted.

Seventeen Scandinavians of this city petitioned the committee on evening schools that one room in the Dutcher school be opened with a Scandinavian teacher and the petition was granted.

Superintendent Molloy asked to have an understanding relative to his visiting schools outside of Lowell, and on motion of Dr. Barclay it was voted that the matter be left to the discretion of the chairman of the board.

Principal Greene of the Moody school made a request for song books containing the selections corresponding with the Victrola records, which were purchased by parents of children attending the school and the matter was referred to the chairman of the committee on books and supplies. Adjourned at 10 o'clock.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The invention by Thomas A. Edison of a storage battery device which reduces danger of life and health of workers employed in mines, tunnels, submarine boats, factories and other places where explosive gases are generated, has won for Mr. Edison the honor of being the first recipient in this country of the Rathenau medal—according to announcement made here last night. This medal, once presented by the emperor of Germany to Dr. Emil Rathenau, was loaned to the American Museum of Safety which will award a replica each year to the inventor of the best device in the electrical industry for safeguarding life. Mr. Edison will receive the medal January 23.

THE OLD CITY COUNCILS

And Now, With Their Methods Compared

A former resident, who was a "Pol" here in the days when John J. Donovan was mayor and there were many but democrats on guard at city hall, blew into town the other day, after an absence of several years. When he found that Monday was inauguration day at city hall, he became reminiscent, and he proceeded to "relieve his mind" of some of the doings of the "good old days." "Some thirty years ago," he said, "it was considered an honor to be a member of the city council, and men of well known capacity and ability did the city's work, although the city was then many thousands less in population and in valuation of real estate than today. Nearly forty men helped to manage the affairs of the city, and they worked with zeal for the good and welfare of their fellow-citizens. They had the luxury of getting more out of one dollar in those days than they get out of two today. It was a pleasure to see the way they managed their appropriations and the small amount of money they used to bring about important results.

There were no big salaries for the men to scrap over, and some of the wealthiest and most influential citizens served the city as aldermen and councilmen without compensation. The only reward they received for their year's work would be an invitation given by the mayor to attend a generous banquet at the city farm in June, when the strawberries were ripe. It is unnecessary to say that they all accepted and were present with their families on that occasion.

Another thing that I remember about the former city government was the pleasant and happy way in which they brought their year's business to a close. At the last session of the year, there was always a very brief meeting for actual business, followed immediately by a mock session, which furnished more amusement and hilarity than a half dozen vaudeville shows.

Another thing that has been abandoned for many years was the agreement among the councilmen and aldermen, that an absentee from a regular meeting should pay a fine of 25 cents, which went into a fund for a final banquet at one of the hotels. At this banquet, another assessment was made and from the money raised in this way, a dinner was given for the in-going and out-going members. This dinner, with its speech-making and jollity was one of the pleasantest events of the year, and as a result of it, the new aldermen and councilmen felt well acquainted with each other when their term began.

On inauguration day, it was the custom for the mayor to extend an invitation to every member of the municipal government, to an informal gathering at his residence. How different is the present system of our government, with less than six people shaping the destinies of our big thriving city. These men seem to lack all sociability and like to give each other hard knocks. Every meeting is one of wrangle and turmoil, with each member trying to usurp the rights of the other. It is too bad we can't have the spirit of the good old times, when men joined in mutual esteem as well as in love of the city they served without remuneration.

HEAD, HANDS, FACE MASS OF PIMPLES

Must Have Itched Terribly, Scratched Awfully, Formed One Solid Sore, Fretful and Did Not Sleep, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

R. F. D. No. 244, Berkel, Conn.—"My baby's trouble began at about two months of age. His head and hands and feet were a mass of little pimples at first. They were like little pinheads, but quickly changed to a mass of pus, which most have itched terribly, as the baby scratched himself awfully. Then they turned into solid sores, which made his baby hard to look at. He was fretful and did not sleep hardly at all neither day nor night. I tried different remedies without any benefit and finally saw the advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and thought we would try them. I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment just as the directions for about three months and they worked wonders for him. Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured him. He is as fat as a pig now." (Signed) Mrs. Geo. H. Pearson, Apr. 11, 1912.

Prescription Confidence

Why—You are SAFE When You Buy at Riker-Jaynes

Whenever you enter a Riker-Jaynes Drug Store you cannot fail to be impressed with the perfect system, extending to the very smallest detail.

This system, enforced in every branch of our business, is of inestimable benefit to those who desire to take advantage of our perfectly equipped

PREScription DEPARTMENTS

In these departments we are as near perfection as it is possible to be. In purchasing drugs we do not follow the old-fashioned drug store style, which consists in buying these articles from the jobber and taking it for granted that they are all right.

Our system in buying drugs for prescription work calls for purchasing these ingredients direct from headquarters and before using subjecting them to critical analysis in our laboratory in order to be sure they are of the required high standard.

For this reason you can rest assured that when a prescription is compounded at one of our stores the ingredients are of the very highest quality.

In Compounding Prescriptions. Every prescription entrusted to us to be filled is handled only by a most capable registered pharmacist. It not only has to be compounded by such a pharmacist, but is always checked by another, equally well qualified registered man.

For this reason you can rest assured that when you receive your prescription from us it has been filled accurately, and exactly as your doctor ordered.

As for Our Prices. They are made as low as possible, considering the high standard of ingredients used and the expense of properly compounding them.

For this reason you can rest assured that the price you pay for a prescription filled at our stores is as low as the quality will justify.

THE ABOVE THREE REASONS

Can be summed up in the following few words:
The Purest and Best Ingredients
Skillful Compounding by Experienced Clerks
At a Very Reasonable Price
MAY WE HAVE YOUR PRESCRIPTION?

In order to show the confidence the public already have in our prescription business we take pleasure in stating that during the past year in our twenty-three stores in New England we have filled a total of 325,608 prescriptions. This is certainly very satisfactory to us, and from the warm support shown this branch of our business we have every reason to expect a very material increase during the coming year.

REFEREES' ASSOCIATION GIRL INSTANTLY KILLED

Soccer Officials Meet Six-Year-Old Girl Was Having First Slide

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—While on a few hours' visit to her grandmother, 6-year-old Agnes Hinds of 117 Hancock street, Everett, coasted down Bradford street onto Main direct in the path of a heavy six-ton automobile express truck and was instantly killed late yesterday afternoon.

Her brother Melvin, aged 12, was playing the grandmother's favorite game of checkers with her, and interested in the game for the time being, didn't notice that his little sister had taken his sled from the back yard, notwithstanding that both had warned her not to take it.

The little girl coasted down the sidewalk on her first slide. The driver of the automobile did not see her until she was a few yards from his front wheels. He applied the emergency brakes but to no avail as she was too close to avoid an accident.

Witnesses, who held him blameless, gathered up the little body and carried it to the house of the grandmother. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hinds; she leaves also five brothers and sisters. Morrison was released on bonds to appear at Malden court today.

Weeks Forged to the Front and McCall Held Second Place in Yesterday's Caucus

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—John W. Weeks for that is what the struggle between the candidates now amounts to. Ambassador Guild, Congressman George P. Lawrence and ex-Gov. Draper were among the also rans. In the 14th balloting ex-Gov. John Bates was brought out by some of the Weeks men as a dark horse candidate, but the legislators didn't take to the end of the endurance contest, kindly to him, and his four backers went back to Weeks on the next ballot.

Eleven Ballots Taken

Eleven ballots were taken yesterday from 3 to 6:30 p. m., when the caucus adjourned to meet again at 10:30 this morning. The Weeks men were a little more cheerful during yesterday's balloting than they were the day before.

Things were coming their way, slowly to be sure, but coming nevertheless. When the balloting ended last evening, having taken 17 votes in the two days sessions of the caucus, it was found that Weeks and McCall had swapped places and had exchanged their numerical strength.

Weeks Gets Four From Lowell

A shift of four Lowell members from McCall to Weeks really sent the latter to the top of the running.

The Weeks men say that if their candidate can keep even a nose ahead of McCall in today's balloting his chances for winning the nomination will be improved.

The McCall men, headed by Senator Stearns, were inclined to press for an expression on a second choice for candidate, but Channing Fox, the House Weeks leader, advised them not to try it on.

"Weeks is our first and second choice," said he. "It will not do any good."

Spokesmen for all the candidates said at the close of the meeting that all would stick. The McCall men said that they looked for their candidate to forge ahead at today's balloting.

Others predicted that the night would continue a deadlock and go to the joint convention without a nomination.

No Proxies for Absentees

When the caucus was called to order at 3:12 p. m., Representative Haines of Medford moved that when a motion to adjourn was made it be debatable and that five minutes be allowed the representative of each candidate to discuss the question. The motion was carried.

Representative Washburn of Worcester made a motion that any member absent by reason of illness may vote on a written proxy provided that a physician's certificate attesting his inability to be present is furnished.

Haines objected, saying that the danger was that the other candidates may have some absentees in mind. On a voice vote the chair declared the motion defeated. A rising vote was called for by Washburn, but before the vote was taken the Worcester man withdrew his doubt.

Cushing Hax a Plan

Speaker Cushing then addressed the chair. Before he had got well started Washburn of Worcester asked what motion was before the caucus. Chairman Greenwood said that there was no motion before the caucus, whereupon the speaker moved that an informal vote for a candidate for United States senator be taken. He then resumed his speech in which he said that he was ready to move for an informal ballot and if Weeks led to change his vote and ask a sufficient number of McCall men to go with him to nominate Weeks, provided the Weeks men would agree to do the same in the event of McCall leading on the ballot.

Move Excites Haines

A Guild man, Haines of Medford in a warm speech, said that he was surprised, and pained to see the friends of McCall who put through the two-thirds rule trying to break down the very rule they advocated at the conference. For himself, he said, if any change was made he would walk out of the caucus and he was willing to stay until the election was taken to the joint convention.

Senator Bazeley of Uxbridge stated that he was opposed to any change in the rules adopted.

Senator Ward of Buckland, a McCall man, opposed the scheme, saying that he hoped that no change would be made. He wanted every candidate's friends to have a chance to vote for him to the end.

THREE PLUMBERS ARE SUSPENDED

For Violation of Rules—Mr. Osgood of Board of Health Gives Interesting Report

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the members of the board of health held a meeting and considerable business was transacted. Among other matters Mr. Osgood, a member of the board, read a report on infant mortality, which showed that the deaths at the age of one year and under represented one-third of the city's total deaths in 1912.

Plumbers Suspended

For alleged violations to the rules and regulations relative to plumbing, the board voted to request the state examiners of plumbing to forbid three local plumbers to engage in the business as master plumbers, or to work at their business as journeymen plumbers within the state of Massachusetts for a period of one week.

The following motion was read by Dr. Carroll:

"Moved that Messrs. Lynde, Welch, and Campbell, in the opinion of the board of health, have violated rules and regulations relative to plumbing, and that the board of health request the state examiners of plumbing to forbid these men, Lynde, Welch and Campbell, to engage in the business of plumbing as master plumbers, or to work at their business as journeymen plumbers within the state of Massachusetts for a period of one week; and that our inspectors be permitted to be present at the hearing to be given by the state commission of plumbers to give the evidence that he has in his possession."

The motion became a unanimous artificial foods. This is a remarkably good record as to the ability of our mothers to perform this important function. The importance of maternal nursing can not be overestimated. From the data gathered by this department for two years now it can be safely said that in Lowell at the present time the chances of life for a baby who is breast-fed are at least 10 times as great as a baby that is bottle-fed. "During the year 1912 over 1800 mothers' instruction cards have been sent into the homes of these little ones by this department.

"We still have the same problems before us. But they can and will be solved in the future some time. Even in the face of unsurmountable difficulties, we have traveled along the way and can afford to have that necessary optimism which catches glimpses of ultimate victory over our modern and many-sided Herod."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of the Lowell council of the Knights of Columbus held a brief business session in their headquarters in the Associate building last night, after which a tournament at Forty-five was played. The contests were lively and interesting and afforded great enjoyment for those present. About 16 teams took part and suitable prizes were awarded the winning teams and many of the Knights gathered to look on.

Great progress is reported in the work on the new building and the roof will be completed soon, providing the weather is favorable.

Knights of Malta

The regular meeting of the Lowell commandery, Knights of Malta, was held recently in the council chamber in Odd Fellows' hall in Middlesex street and was well attended. Two applications for membership were received, and 20 new candidates initiated into the society and considerable other routine business was transacted.

The members of the organization are now making arrangements to work the last degree at a meeting on the afternoon of Sunday, March 2. At the next gathering they will work the second degree on five new members.

bleeding hands

NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 23, 1912.—"My face and hands were chapped to such an extent that the cracks bled, and the burning was awful when I washed my face. Of course my face and hands were red, and felt like a rasp. I tried several applications without results, but three applications of Resinol relieved me. I put Resinol Ointment all over my face and hands and arms, and kept it on all day, washed it off in the evening with Resinol Soap and put a little Ointment on, then put on full-dose in the morning again. I noticed the benefit from Resinol when I washed the first time after using it. I was soon completely cured." (Signed) Miss H. de Martine, 550 E. 180th Street.

For 18 years Resinol has been a doctor's prescription and household remedy for skin troubles, pimples, burns, sores, piles, etc. Resinol Ointment, (50c and $1) and Resinol Soap (50c) sold by all druggists. For names of each, write to Dept. 13-T, Resinol Chem. Co., Baltimore, Md.

GUESTS AT LOWELL NIGHT

C. Y. M. L. Enjoys Hospitality of C. Y. M. A.

The members of the C. Y. M. L. and their young lady friends journeyed to Lawrence last evening as guests of the C. Y. M. A. of that city. Two special cars left Lowell at 7:10 with as happy and jolly a crowd as ever set out for a good time. Songs were at once started and time passed quickly until they were in the down-river city, where they were escorted to the C. Y. M. A. by a band and drum corps. Dancing was immediately started. The gymnasium presented a happy scene, where the Lowell strong men tested their strength against the Lawrence members. A series of contests was staged under the direction of Henry F. Sullivan, assisted by Mr. Quinn and Mr. Lavo. Lawrence tied with Lowell in all but bowling; in this they won by a score of 4 to 0. Out of the whist contest, Lawrence gained one point while Lowell was the winner of the pitch game with one point. The Lyceum boys also were victorious in the Forty Five which came next in the pool competition. The Lawrence representatives proved to be the faster and the result was two to one in their favor. The checkers contest also netted the hosts one more point. The billiards game was a feature of the evening and in this Timothy Roman of the C. Y. M. L. defeated the Lawrence champion, thereby adding a tally to the Lowell score. The bowling match proved disastrous to the hopes of the Lyceum contestants for general victory for they were defeated and the result placed Lawrence in the lead by four points. The final total score being: Lawrence 8, Lowell 4.

COPPER WEAK

AT OPENING OF MARKET—OTHER STOCKS STRONG

$1,000,000 Worth of Gold Engaged For Paris Account—Prices Went Downward at Noon—Heavy Close

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Weakness of the copper was the most conspicuous feature in the initial transactions on the stock exchange today. In these issues there were drops of a point or more. The list as a whole remained heavy. A few stocks were strong. American Tobacco gained 2 5/8 and Texas Co. a point.

While there was little in the way of general news to justify the change in market sentiment prices today took a downward course, presumably in sympathy with the weakness of the copper group. Bear operators found there was little general support, and put out moderate lines of the important stocks with especial pressure against some of the transcontinental issues particularly Can. Pac. and P. A. sharp fall in the price of copper started abroad was followed by rumors here that selling agencies would dispose of copper in large quantities. This affected the leading copper stocks. Bonds were firm.

American Tobacco advanced 6 points. Gusenheimer Exploration fell 3. Chino Copper, which closed yesterday at 18 1/2, broke to 17 in sympathy with the decline in the stock.

The dullness which came over the market discouraged the bulls and bears and even scalping operations were abandoned. Prices of the copper shares ruled close to the low figures of the morning but the list otherwise was on the mend.

The market closed heavy. The usual buying for the short account in the closing dealings did not make its appearance and speculation continued commonplace. Occasional rallies in specialties were without influence elsewhere. The failure of the steel exchange figures to arouse interest in the market put a damper on general speculation.

VETERAN FIREMEN

Annual Meeting, Banquet and Election of Officers Held Last Evening—Edward A. Salmon Chosen President

The annual meeting and banquet of the Lowell Veteran Firemen's association was held in the office of Chief of Firemen at the Central fire station last night and although the association is growing smaller in numbers each year last night's event proved to be a successful and enjoyable one.

During the early part of the evening a business meeting was held and the reports of the various officers were read and accepted. At the conclusion of the business meeting a banquet was served and after the inner man had been satisfied speeches, stories and songs were in order.

The guests of honor were Mayor O'Donnell, Commissioners Barrett and Cummings and James H. Walker, president of the Gen. Buire Veteran Firemen's association. Each one delivered a brief address.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Edward A. Salmon; secretary and treasurer, Charles H. Philbrick; delegate to state convention for two years, Jan. 25, at Albany, Francis Connolly, Edward Smith, Wm. Halshead, Nathaniel Bishop and Clark Haywood.

Flying High at the Y. W. C. A.

Two sides of 50 birdwomen will strive to break the altitude record for the association membership and incidentally will be pitted against one another in groups of 10. The 50 low flyers will carry a supper to the 50 who are going higher.

A general meeting for all participants will occur Wednesday evening, Jan. 15, at 7 o'clock. The reports of progress will be given Jan. 21 and 22, Tuesday and Thursday nights, and the grand climax will be celebrated Saturday, Jan. 25, at an initiation social for all members, new and old.

The mistress of the meet will be Mrs. A. F. French, while the two contending chief aviators are Mrs. Willis Hatch and Miss Ida Woodies. The teams are being recruited and all daring flyers will be welcomed into the contest.

Reading

"The Mansion" by Henry Van Dyke will be read by Mrs. Belle Harrington-Hall at the Y. W. C. A. Sunday afternoon at a special service arranged by the Y. W. C. A. The speaker, Rev. B. R. Harris will be the speaker and the music will be furnished by Miss Bernice Libby and Miss Edith Sanders.

Mr. Pujo declined to make public his plans for intercepting Mr. Rockefeller or the name of the physician to be employed by the committee.

"Mr. Rockefeller will be examined by representatives of the committee on American territory," he said.

"Further than that I can say nothing at this time. To make public our plans might defeat our purpose."

It is understood Mr. Pujo has already arranged with a physician to examine Mr. Rockefeller.

OBSERVED 60TH ANNIVERSARY OF MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Brickett Greeted By Their Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Brickett, who trace their ancestry back for many generations and who, like most of the early settlers, were engaged in agricultural pursuits. They were noted for their longevity, which undoubtedly accounts for the ripe age that Mr. Brickett now enjoys. His father, Abram Brickett, was born in Newbury, Vt., in 1833, and died in Newark, Vt., Feb. 13, 1892. His mother was born in 1802 in Peacham, Vt., and passed away in Danville, Vt., Aug. 10, 1874.

Edmund Brickett was born in Peacham, Vt., May 26, 1831, and he is the fifth child of Abram and Violette Brickett. He was educated in the public schools of his native town and Cabot, Vt., whither his family had removed, until he attained his 15th year. His first occupation was farming, in which he engaged until 25 years of age. In 1851 he came to Lowell and found employment in the carding room of the Tremont & Suffolk mills. In four months he was promoted to section hand in the weaving room, remaining one year, and leaving to accept the same position with the Appleton corporation, where he remained until 1854.

On Jan. 10, 1853, Mr. Brickett was united in marriage to Lucy F. Flint, daughter of Asa Flint of Walden, Vt., the ceremony being performed at the Highland Congregational church on Western street. They had known each other in Vermont, and it was shortly after Miss Flint came here that the wedding took place. After the wedding, Mrs. Brickett was not in the best of health, so her husband purchased a farm in Cabot, Vt., where they went and remained 18 years. They then returned to Lowell, and Mrs. Brickett conducted a corporation boarding house for the Tremont & Suffolk for four and one-half years.

In July, 1881, Mr. Brickett opened a coal and wood office at 6 Fletcher street and disposed of his interest in the boarding house. He devoted his time to the office and did considerable building until 1895, when he sold out his business and intended to retire. While he gave up the office, he continued to do small jobs.

Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Brickett, Leroy A., who passed away when he was very young, and Emma V. The latter married Charles F. Robinson, and at the present time occupies a beautiful residence at 884 Huntington avenue, Boston. They have one son, George Edmund Robinson, and he is a great favorite with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Brickett.

Mrs. Robinson spends considerable time with her parents, and she is well and favorably known as a teacher of the piano. There are the only relatives of the happy couple and they were among those present at the festivities today. The venerable couple are both enjoying the best of health.

They Are Both in Good Health and Very Happy

ONE-HALF BOTTLE OF THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY ACCOMPLISHES WONDERS

When I sent for a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, I was in great distress day and night. Before I received sample by mail, I went to our best doctor (and he is second to none in this vicinity) and told him how I felt. He put me up a bottle of medicine, but was no better than when I began. I then began your sample bottle, and before I got through with it, I felt a change. The swelling sensation did not bother only a few times in the middle of the day. I would not have believed such a small quantity would have done so much, but before it was gone I learned that our druggist kept Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and so got a large bottle for one dollar but actually worth one hundred dollars. Only took one large tablespoonful three times a day and before I had taken one-half bottle I was all right and have been since. Gratefully yours,

GEORGE S. CHAMPLIN,
Ashaway, R. I.

OFFICERS WERE CHOSEN

Mr. Gilligan, who for the past term has served as president of the institute, was re-elected unanimously for another term. James J. Flannigan and R. I. Whelan were re-elected to the offices of vice president and financial secretary, respectively. Mr. Gilligan appointed the following committees: Literary committee, J. Payne, J. McCaffery and J. F. Connors; financial committee, F. McCarthy, Joseph Mullin and Elliot Wood; building committee, William Keneff, George Keneff and Alfred J. Conney. Among the valuable suggestions which were offered for the good of the organization was the raising of the membership fee.

The installation of the above officers will take place on Sunday, Jan. 12, and there will be also a concert and entertainment following the ceremony.

BIG EVENT OF A. O. H.
Five Local Divisions in Joint Installation

COUNTY PRESIDENT JAMES HAROLD OFFICIATED

Major James E. O'Donnell and Commanders Donnelly, Cummings and Barrett were present. The officers were a large attendance of members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at A. O. H. hall last night when five local divisions gathered to hold the annual installation of officers. The exercises were very impressive and following the installation rites, a pleasant entertainment was given.

James Harold, Waltham county president of the organization, was present to officiate at the installation and he was assisted by Vice President Daniel Hogan and Frank Kierce. The various officers of the divisions are the following:

Division 1—President, Daniel E. Hogan; vice president, Michael Casey; treasurer, Thomas McCann; financial secretary, James Sheehan; recording secretary, George Stewart.
Division 2—President, John Murphy; vice president, James Heary; treasurer, Dennis F. Lynch; financial secretary, John Cullane; recording secretary, John J. McOsker.
Division 3—President, Daniel Riley; vice president, P. Mahoney; treasurer, Patrick Finnerty; recording secretary, Edward Flannery; financial secretary, Thomas Dorsey.
Division 4—President, John McNeely; vice president, John Kennedy; treasurer, John Hickey; financial secretary, William Nelson; recording secretary, Daniel F. Quinn.
Division 5—President, Patrick McCann; vice president, Patrick Kane; treasurer, Edward Slattery; financial secretary, Martin Sullivan; recording secretary, James Lillis.

The ceremony of installing the officers was a most impressive one and the union gathering of the various divisions last night was the biggest of its kind in some years. Mayor James O'Donnell was present and briefly addressed the members, complimenting them on the excellent showing and the good work which they have performed. He spoke in glowing tribute of the Hibernian organization and its wonderful growth and progress. James O'Sullivan, Commissioners Lawrence Cummings and Andrew E. Barrett, County President Harold, County Vice-President Hogan, Daniel J. Murphy, the first state president of the A. O. H. in Massachusetts and the others delivered addresses on various topics relative to Hibernian matters and the good of the order. Patrick McCann, president of Division 2, presided over the gathering.

Mr. John Dalton and Commissioner J. P. Donnelly, both well known as two of Lowell's leading singers, rendered several pleasing selected solos as a part of the evening's entertainment.

Following the St. Patrick's day convention which is to take place next Sunday afternoon, the five officers installed last night in each division will meet to organize the Central council of the order for the ensuing year. Each division of the society has made arrangements to have a number of delegates at the convention.

Last night during the course of the festivities, County President Harold of Waltham received the congratulations of the local members of the A. O. H. on his recent election to the board of aldermen of Waltham.

John Sheehan, retiring president of division 2 was presented a gold signet ring and watch chain, emblems of the organization, as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the members of that division and in recognition of the good work which he has accomplished for the good of the order. The presentation was made by County President Harold.

The joint installation of the Hibernians last night was one of the most largely attended and successful that the history of the order in Lowell can recall.

MATRIMONIAL
A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the parochial residence of St. John's church, No. Chelmsford, when the pastor, Rev. Fr. Scheffler, united in marriage Miss Ella T. Kernins, a well known young lady of the parish, and John E. Connors of Tyngsboro. The bride wore a gown of white messaline with real lace trimings and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Kernins, who wore white messaline and carried white carnations. The best man was Henry McCarthy of Lynn, a cousin of the groom. The bride's gift to her maid was a ring, while the groom presented the best man a set of cuff links. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Kernins of Dartmouth street to the immediate relatives. The newly married couple departed on the 9:45 train on a wedding tour to Providence, R. I. and Hartford, Conn. Upon their return they will take up their residence in North Chelmsford with the best wishes of a host of friends.

NO MAIL SINCE DEC. 26
Snow Blockade at Fairbanks, Alaska
FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Jan. 10.—As a result of the snow blockade on the Copper River & Northwestern railroad which has been tied up more than two weeks with little prospect of early resumption of traffic, Fairbanks, the largest city in Alaska, has been without mail service from the states since Dec. 26.
The last mail was received on that date by a dog sled from Chitina and the next mail is not expected before the end of the present month.
The city council and the Commercial club of Fairbanks called immediately to Delegate Wickersham at Washington protesting against what they declare to be inadequate railroad service to Fairbanks.
